A BRIGHT NEW LINEUP FOR FALL

More Movies,
More Cartoons,
Special Premieres
and Nostalgia!

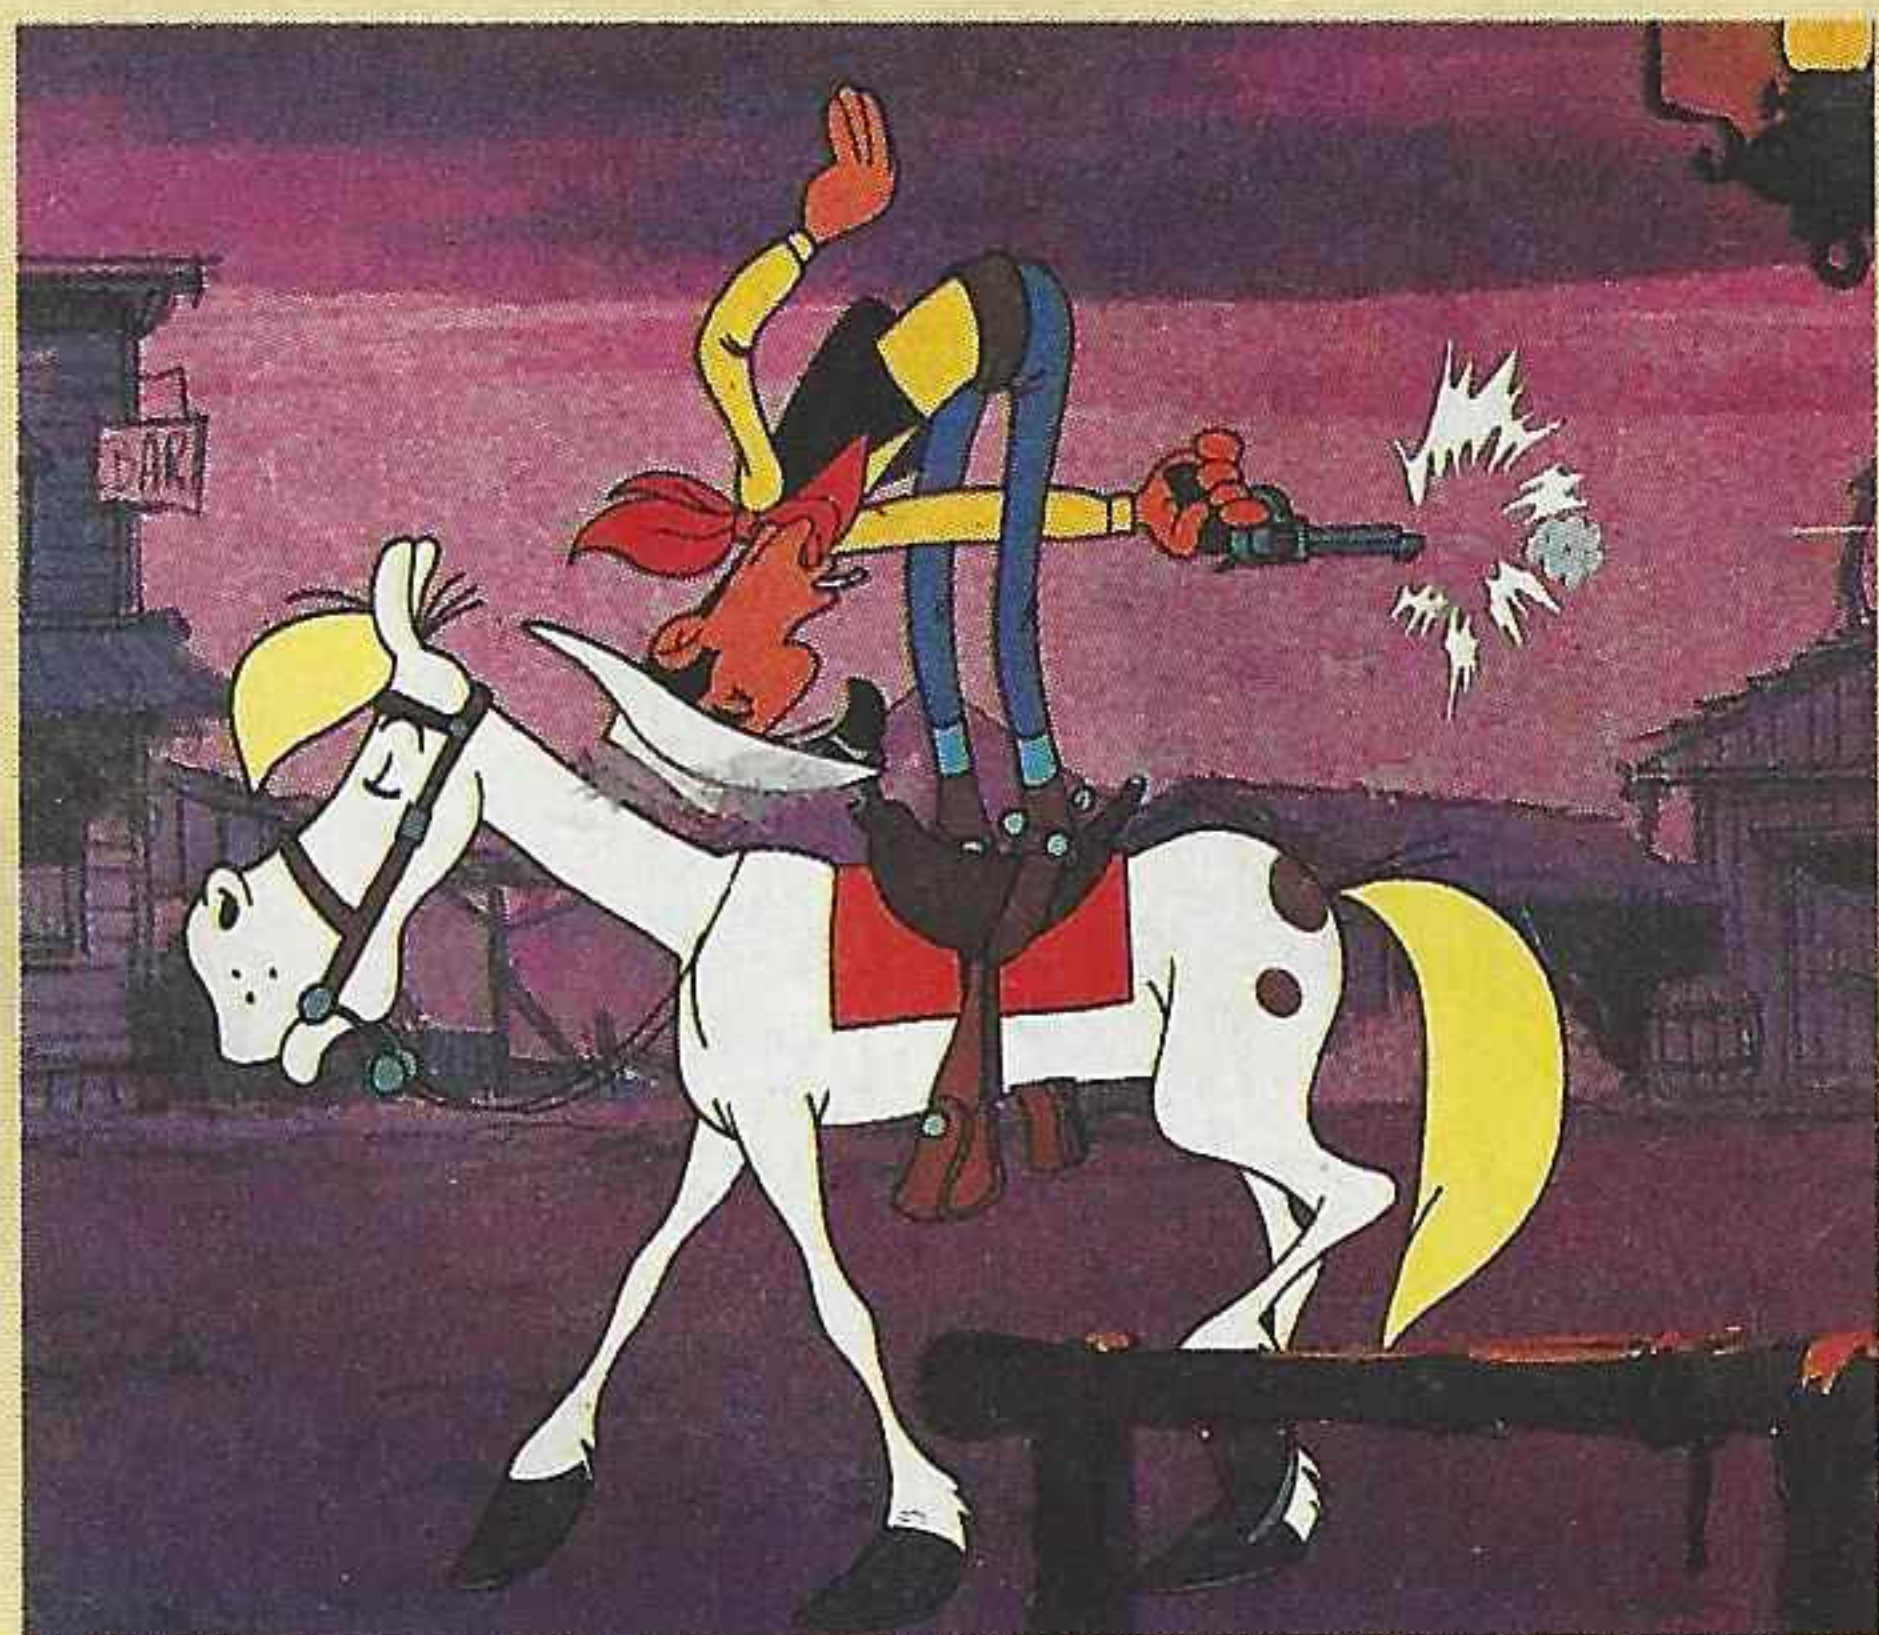

Meet the dainty,
poetry-loving star of
"The Reluctant Dragon"

The Disney Channel has a new sparkle this month, thanks to your recommendations concerning programming.

You've told us what you want, and we're delivering it. Starting September first we're giving you more movies, more new shows, an afternoon cartoon show and more nostalgia. We've made room for an array of short subjects, specials and featurettes, and we've changed the airtime of certain programs to accommodate your schedule. In short, we're tailoring The Disney Channel for you!

So sit back and enjoy three great new series: LUCKY LUKE, COMING

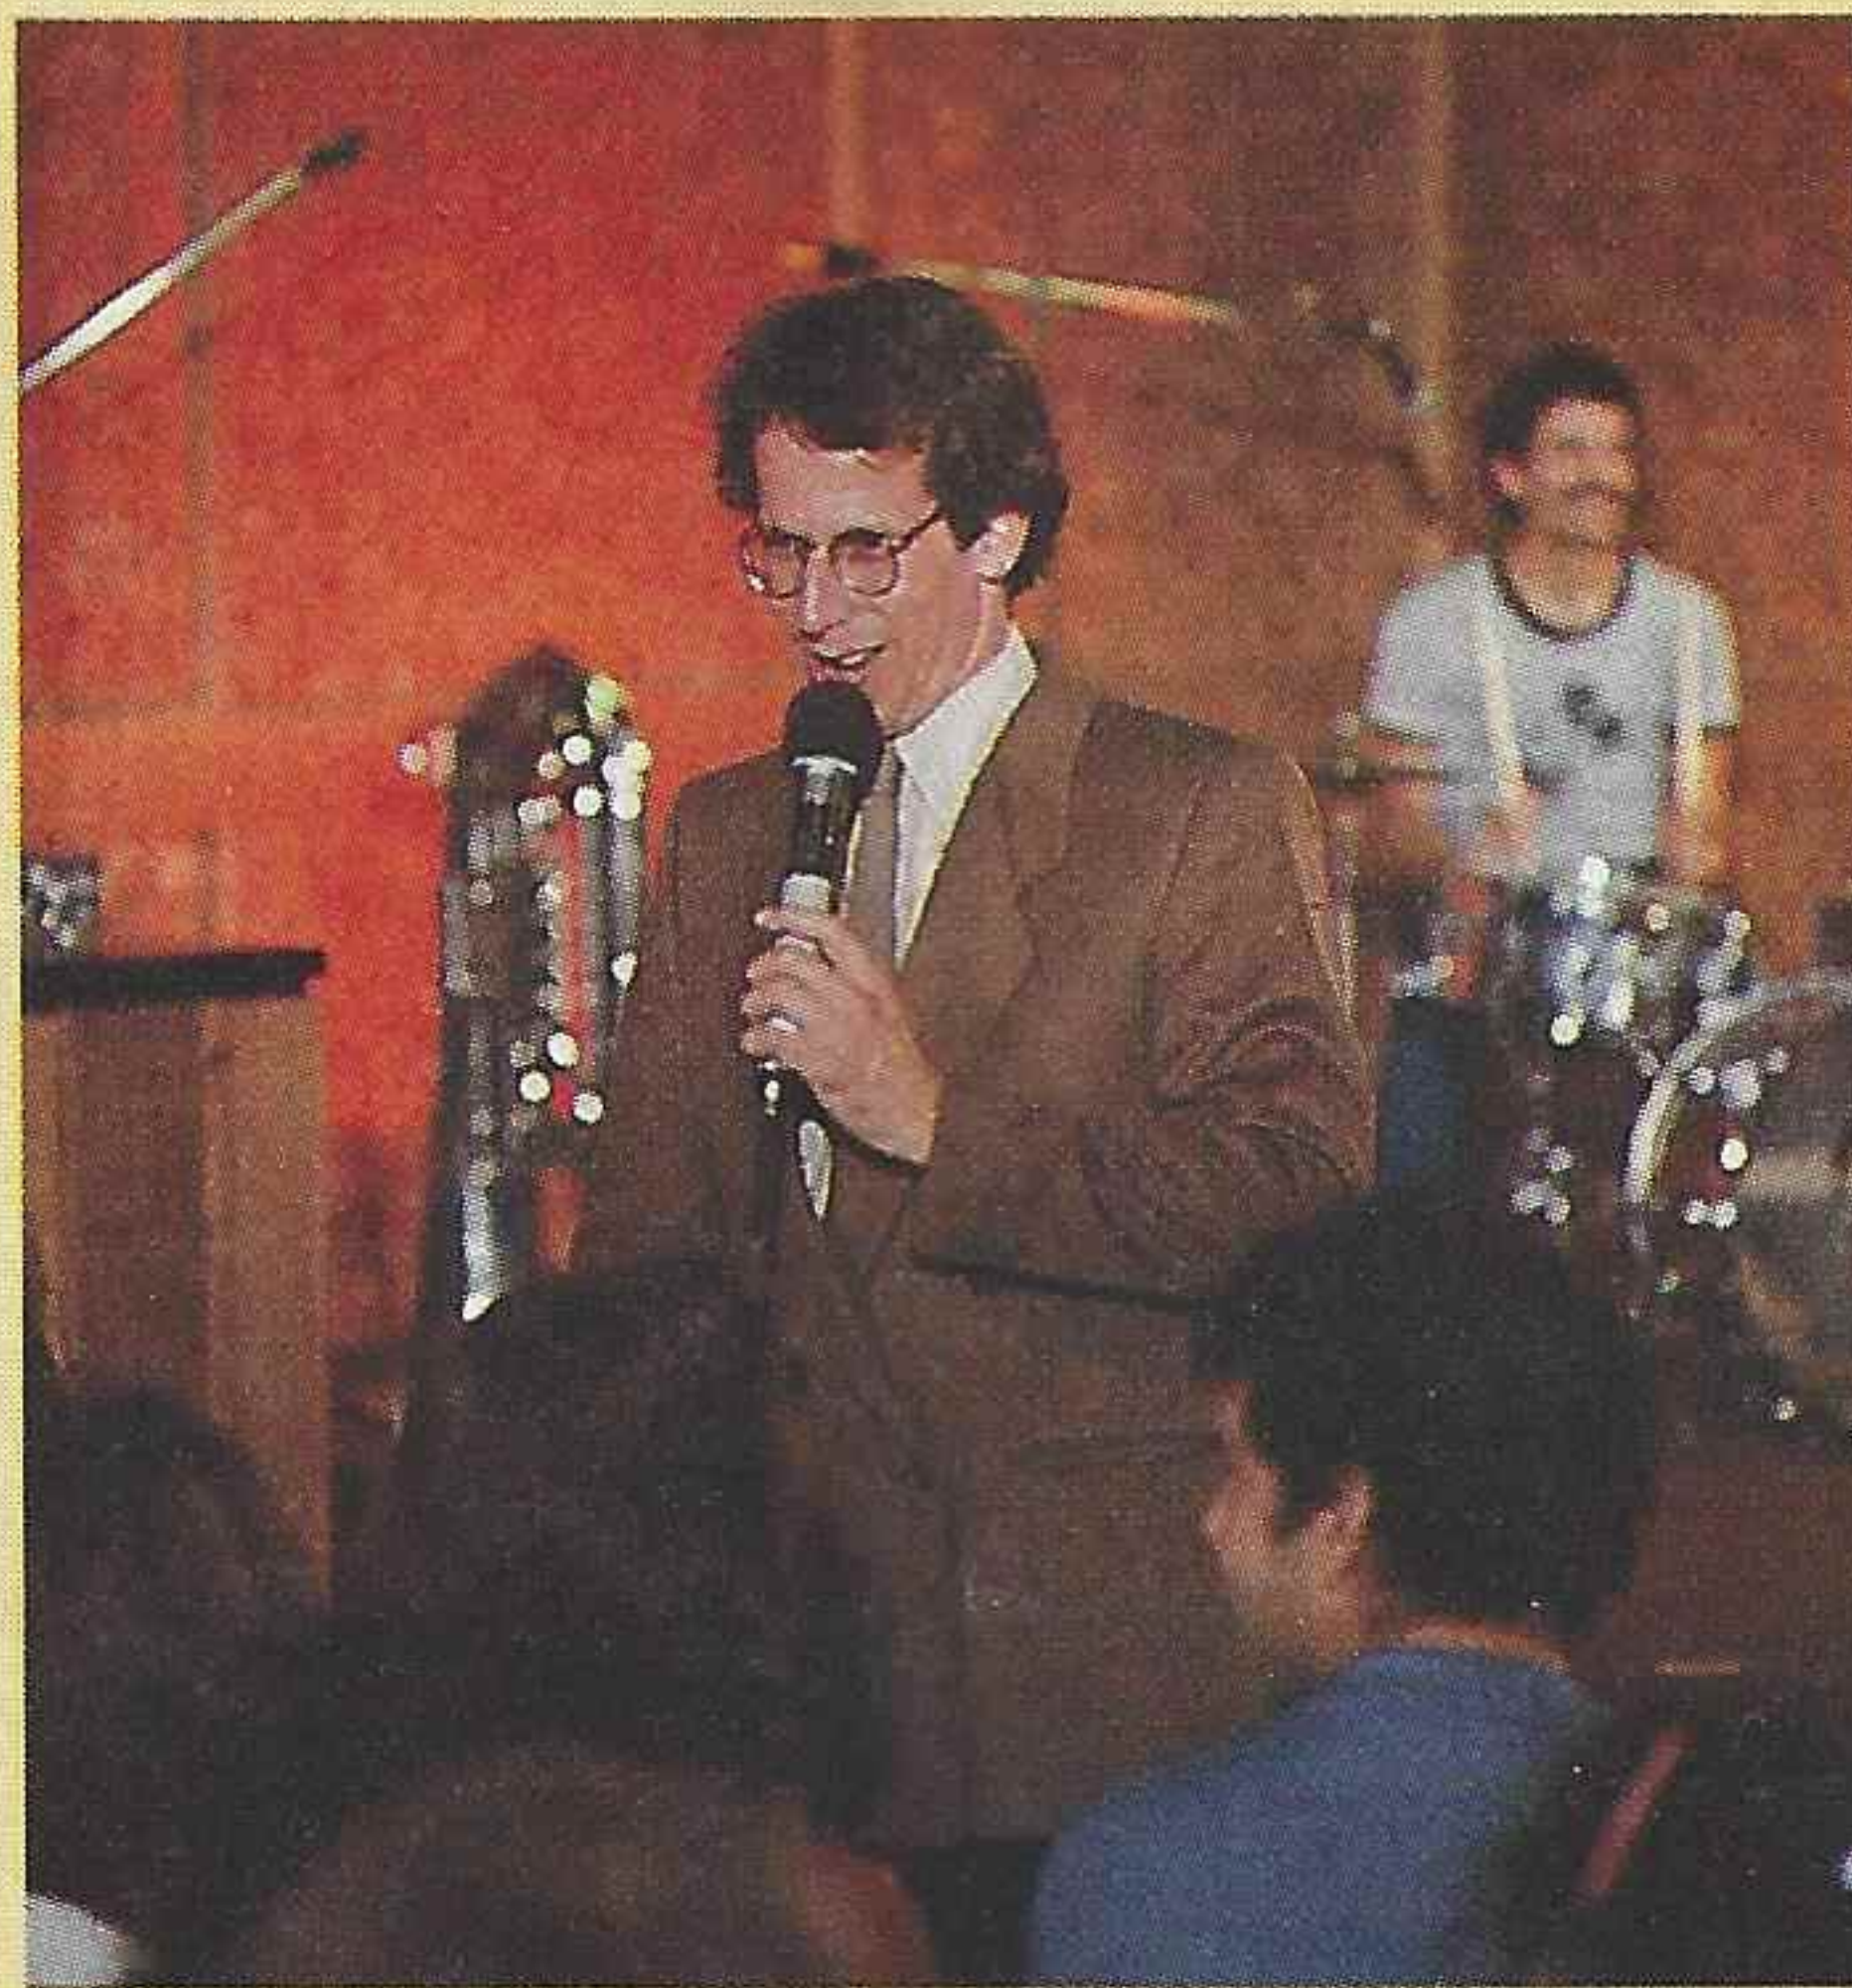

Lucky Luke and Jolly Jumper

ON! and DONALD DUCK PRESENTS. Stroll down memory lane with "Milestones in Animation" and "The Reluctant Dragon." Take your pick from recent theatrical releases like "Tex" and "Night Crossing" or golden oldies like "The Absent-Minded Professor" and "The Ugly Dachshund." But don't stop there! There's much, much more to watch this month.

THREE NEW EXCLUSIVE SERIES

LUCKY LUKE introduces a quick-draw cartoon cowboy from France who'll remind you of every western hero Hollywood ever created. Listen closely and you'll hear the sound-alike voices of Hollywood's most famous "shooting" stars, too. It's all in fun, and Lucky Luke will continue to badger the bad guys in October.

COMING ON! brings you talented young performers from colleges across the country. We open this month with nine entertainers, a dance team and a band at Memphis State University. Future shows will originate from 23 other campuses.

DONALD DUCK PRESENTS stars Disney's short-tempered web-foot in a weekday afternoon galaxy of cartoons sprinkled with lively animated educational subjects from the studio's film library. You'll find lots more fascinating classics and featurettes among the attractions in "Between the Acts."

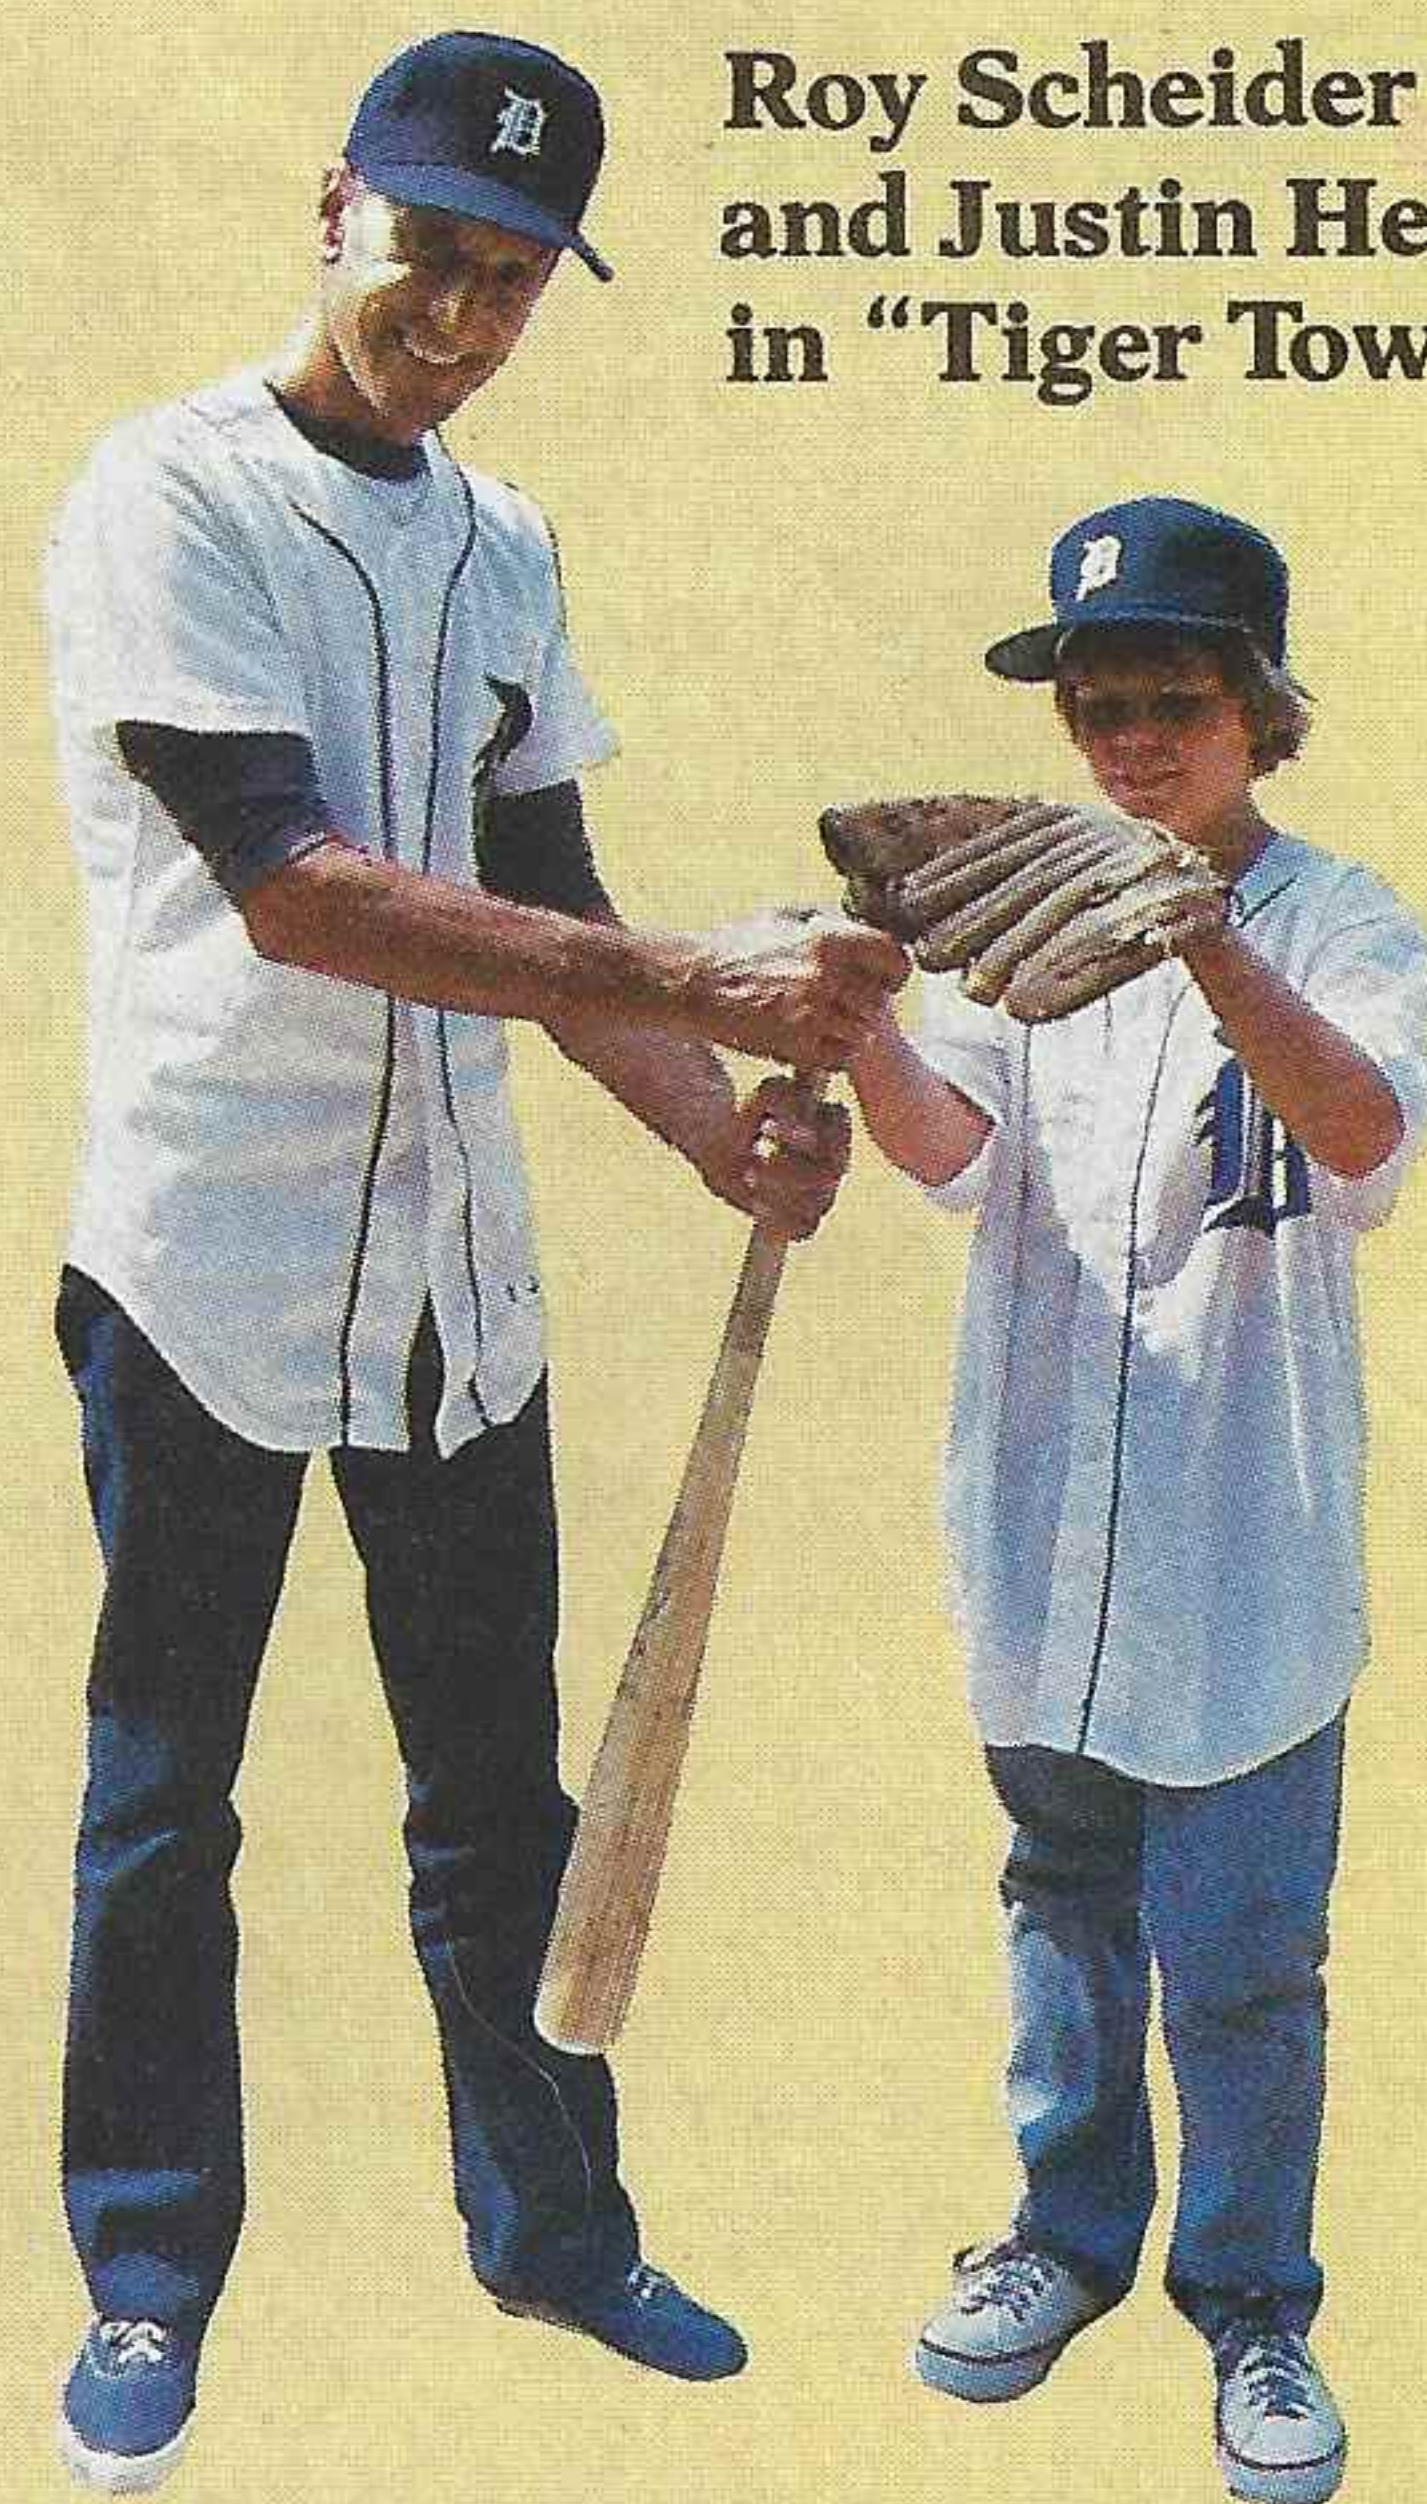

A toast to host Donald

MORE ENTERTAINMENT THAN EVER

Please note that we've scheduled GOOD MORNING, MICKEY! for two showings daily, and added cartoons after the feature-length movies. We've moved MOUSER-CISE to an earlier airtime so that more of you can exercise together. EPCOT MAGAZINE has been trimmed a half hour, and the closing presentation of the weekend edition will be shown Sunday night for latecomers.

There are more treats yet to come. Next month look for "Tiger Town," starring Roy Scheider in The Disney Channel's first made-for-pay feature film.

Roy Scheider and Justin Henry in "Tiger Town"

Author S. E. Hinton Talks About "Tex"

S E. Hinton is the unqualified master of young-adult fiction whose four novels have sold over 10 million copies and received every imaginable award.

Hinton writes about teenage boys in a lean, realistic style which has been compared to that of Ernest Hemingway. "Tex," premiering this month on The Disney Channel, is the first of the author's books to be filmed and Hinton—who happens to be an attractive young mother named Susan Eloise Hinton Inhofe—was on hand throughout the shoot. A modern coming-of-age story, "Tex" stars Matt Dillon in the title role.

Q: And now, having seen "Tex," what do you think of the finished film?

HINTON: I'm really pleased. The casting is great and they stayed true to the characters, which is what I was most concerned about. Although it's not a word for word translation, each of the characters remains fully intact. It's one of the most faithful adaptations I've ever seen.

Q: How did you feel, watching your story come to life on the screen?

HINTON: Great! It was a wonderful experience, nothing like I expected. I'd heard that with movies, the first thing they do is ask the writer to drop off the face of the earth... The Disney people not only invited me to hang around the set but they used a lot of my dialogue in the screenplay and gave me and my old horse Toyota roles in the picture. Toyota plays Matt Dillon's horse Rowdy, and I have a cameo part as Mrs. Barnes, the typing teacher.

Q: Are the characters in "Tex" drawn from your own experience?

HINTON: I used some characters in "Tex" from short stories I wrote as far back as grade school. I am a character writer, I have to begin with people. I know a lot of kids like Tex, determined to be happy in spite of everything. I love that kid. He's really neat. He's a lot of fun. I've had teachers write me and say, "We've all had kids like Tex in our classes. We don't know whether to belt him or hug him."

Q: Why, as a writer, do you use only your initials?

HINTON: Because I write from the male point of view. I was a tomboy most of my life, born and raised in Tulsa, Oklahoma. The main characters in my first book, "The Outsiders," were sketched from the personalities of boys I knew there. I was only 16 when I began that book. I wanted to write something that dealt realistically with teenage life.

Q: "The Outsiders" was published in 1967. You've written three novels since, all concerning teenagers. How are you able to relate so well to them?

HINTON: I have a real good memory. I remember what it was like to be a teenager. A lot of adults are hostile to young people. I'm not. I really like them. I think kids today are facing different problems than I did as a teenager, but I know how they feel... Just being a teenager is a problem enough for anybody! So I try not to write problem books, but I do write realistically about people. My books don't all have happy endings, either. 🐭

EUROPEAN ANIMATED SUPERSTARS DEBUT ON THE DISNEY CHANNEL

Say howdy to Lucky Luke and Asterix, the most popular cartoon characters in Europe!

With the premiere this month of "Lucky Luke," a spoof of Hollywood westerns as seen through the eyes of three witty French film makers, The Disney Channel introduces an outstanding series of full-length European animated movies.

They have been chosen as models of quality entertainment, innovative humor, and artistic excellence. Both Lucky Luke, a lanky cowboy, and Asterix, a scrappy Gaulish warrior, have inspired millions of books, toys, games, and related merchandise abroad since their debut in European newspaper comic strips.

"Lucky Luke" will be followed by a sequel. Asterix will make his American bow in "Asterix the Gaul." The Disney Channel is delighted to bring you these outstanding cartoon comedies in their original versions — but with English-speaking characters.

Now, meet Lucky Luke and his horse Jolly Jumper. This steadfast pair amble off the prairie into Daisy Town, where Luke's flying fists and blazing six-shooters earn him a sheriff's star. Everybody's happy when Luke agrees to take on the four desperate Dalton brothers.

Joe, William, Jack and

Averell Dalton are wanted dead or alive. Luke finally meets them in a classic shootout on a deserted street at high noon.

Lucky Luke

The Dalton boys are run out of town and into the arms of hostile Indians. Lucky Luke has tamed Daisy Town, but wait! What about those dastardly Daltons? They must have something more up their sleeves than five aces. Tune in next month for another twist in the fate of Lucky Luke and the brothers Dalton.

LIGHTS! CAMERA! ACTION! CAMPUS TALENT IS... COMING ON!

Raise the curtain on the best of America's collegiate entertainers. In this new series produced exclusively for The Disney Channel, you'll visit 24 campuses throughout the country and see tomorrow's stars today.

Hosted by comedian Jimmy Aleck, "Coming On!" spotlights student entertainers in original performances. Each show features a special guest host from the campus to assist Aleck with introductions and provide highlights about the school itself.

Musical turns range from soft rock, soul and jazz, to gospel, folk and comedy. There are regional novelties too, such as Creole songs in New Orleans and clog dancing in Memphis.

Memphis State University opens the series with some high-stepping by the all-girl pom-pom dance team. Joanie Ball is the campus co-host who introduces an array of talent including jazz singer Felicia Morgan, monologist Jeff Posson as Mark Twain, impressionist Sid Chase, song stylist Derek Huntsman, and singer David McEwen with dancer Gail Brown. The show closes with a couple of rousing numbers by the Ross Rice Band.

Country western collegian

"Coming On!" is produced by Jack Linkletter, who is identified with shows introducing young talent. He hosted ABC-TV's "Hootenanny," a hit folk music series filmed on college campuses. While still a student at USC, he was guest host on his father Art Linkletter's television show, "House Party."

Jimmy Aleck comes to "Coming On!" from the midwest college circuit, where he toured as a stand-up comedian. An accomplished and versatile performer, Aleck has opened shows for Neil Sedaka, Tina Turner, Willie Nelson, Ray Charles and other musical stars.

Watch for next month's capers, shown only on The Disney Channel!

THE GUMBY[®] SHOW

EXCLUSIVELY ON THE DISNEY CHANNEL

Zip from a hair-raising ride in Gumby's hot rod to some hilarious confusion in Adventureland with the banjo-eyed clay puppet and his pony pal Pokey.

Ride the rails to adventure with Gumby and Pokey

As they scoot from one antic to another they meet Too and Loo, music notes who have escaped from a cracked record, Outcast Marbles, who have lost their shape, and an assortment of equally offbeat characters.

Gumby and all the inhabitants of his comical world were created by Art Clokey, a master of clay-mation.

"Gumby was modeled from blue-green clay mixed with beeswax to prevent cracking," Clokey discloses. "I styled the up-swept 'bump' on Gumby's head after my father's hairdo in his high school graduation picture.

"I wrote the early adventures from bedtime stories I used to tell my daughter. Later they became entirely original, and I tried never to use the same plot twice."

NIGHT CROSSING

(John Hurt, Jane Alexander, Beau Bridges, Glynnis O'Connor, Doug McKeon)

Thrill to this incredible true story of the Strelzyks and the Wetzels—two young couples and their four children who, in 1979, risked everything to escape Communist oppression in East Germany.

Under the constant threat of arrest and imprisonment, they secretly build the largest hot-air balloon ever to fly over Europe. The bag is stitched together on a foot-pumped sewing machine hidden in the Wetzels' attic. The gondola and burner are handmade in their cellar.

After a year of agonizing setbacks, the balloon is ready at last. But the families still must face the overwhelming odds of an untested, homemade craft, unpredictable weather, vigilant border guards and secret police. Their lives are literally in the balance as they begin their dangerous ascent...

"Night Crossing" was filmed entirely on location in West Germany, where a half-mile section of iron barricades and gun emplacements was built to simulate the grim East German border. Seven balloons were used to recreate the daring flight, each one a meticulous reproduction of the original.

The Absent-minded Professor

(Fred MacMurray, Nancy Olson, Keenan Wynn)

Take a farcical flight in the world's first flubber-powered flivver!

Fred MacMurray's an absent-minded professor who accidentally invents flying rubber, or "flubber." He can't remember the formula, but once he discovers that the gooey glop can bounce almost anything to fabulous heights, the fun really flies.

First he flubberizes his Model T Ford. Then the school's pint-sized basketball team gets a hilarious jump on the competition, thanks to flubberized shoes.

The professor's feeling flushed with success until the town loan shark spots his airborne tin lizzie and furtively filches it. Can forgetful Fred recover his flubber-fueled flivver? Follow the feats of "The

THE TREASURE OF SAN BOSCO REEF

(James Daly, Roger Mobley, Nehemiah Persoff)

Try solving this mystery thriller, whose fast-paced plot has more twists and turns than a moray eel!

Teenager Dave Jones (Roger Mobley) visits an Italian fishing village where his uncle Max (James Daly) is heading a governmental salvage expedition. Somewhere off shore lies a sunken treasure so precious that someone is willing to kill for it!

Before long Dave and Max are caught in a dangerous web of intrigue which grows tighter as they realize their own lives are at stake.

Match wits with them, and try to guess "who done it" as the suspects emerge.

(Classic Disney Animated Featurette)

Help yourself to a double helping of animation entertainment! Enjoy a fascinating look at the evolution of animation as an art, plus landmark cartoons in Disney film history.

You'll see Mickey Mouse's movie debut in the first sound cartoon, "Steamboat Willie" (1928), the first color cartoon, "Flowers and Trees" (1932), the first use of the multiplane camera in "The Old Mill" (1937), and the Academy Award-winning "Three Little Pigs" (1933).

The Reluctant Dragon

(Animation-Live Action Feature)

Explore the Disney Studio with humorist Robert Benchley and discover some secrets of film animation!

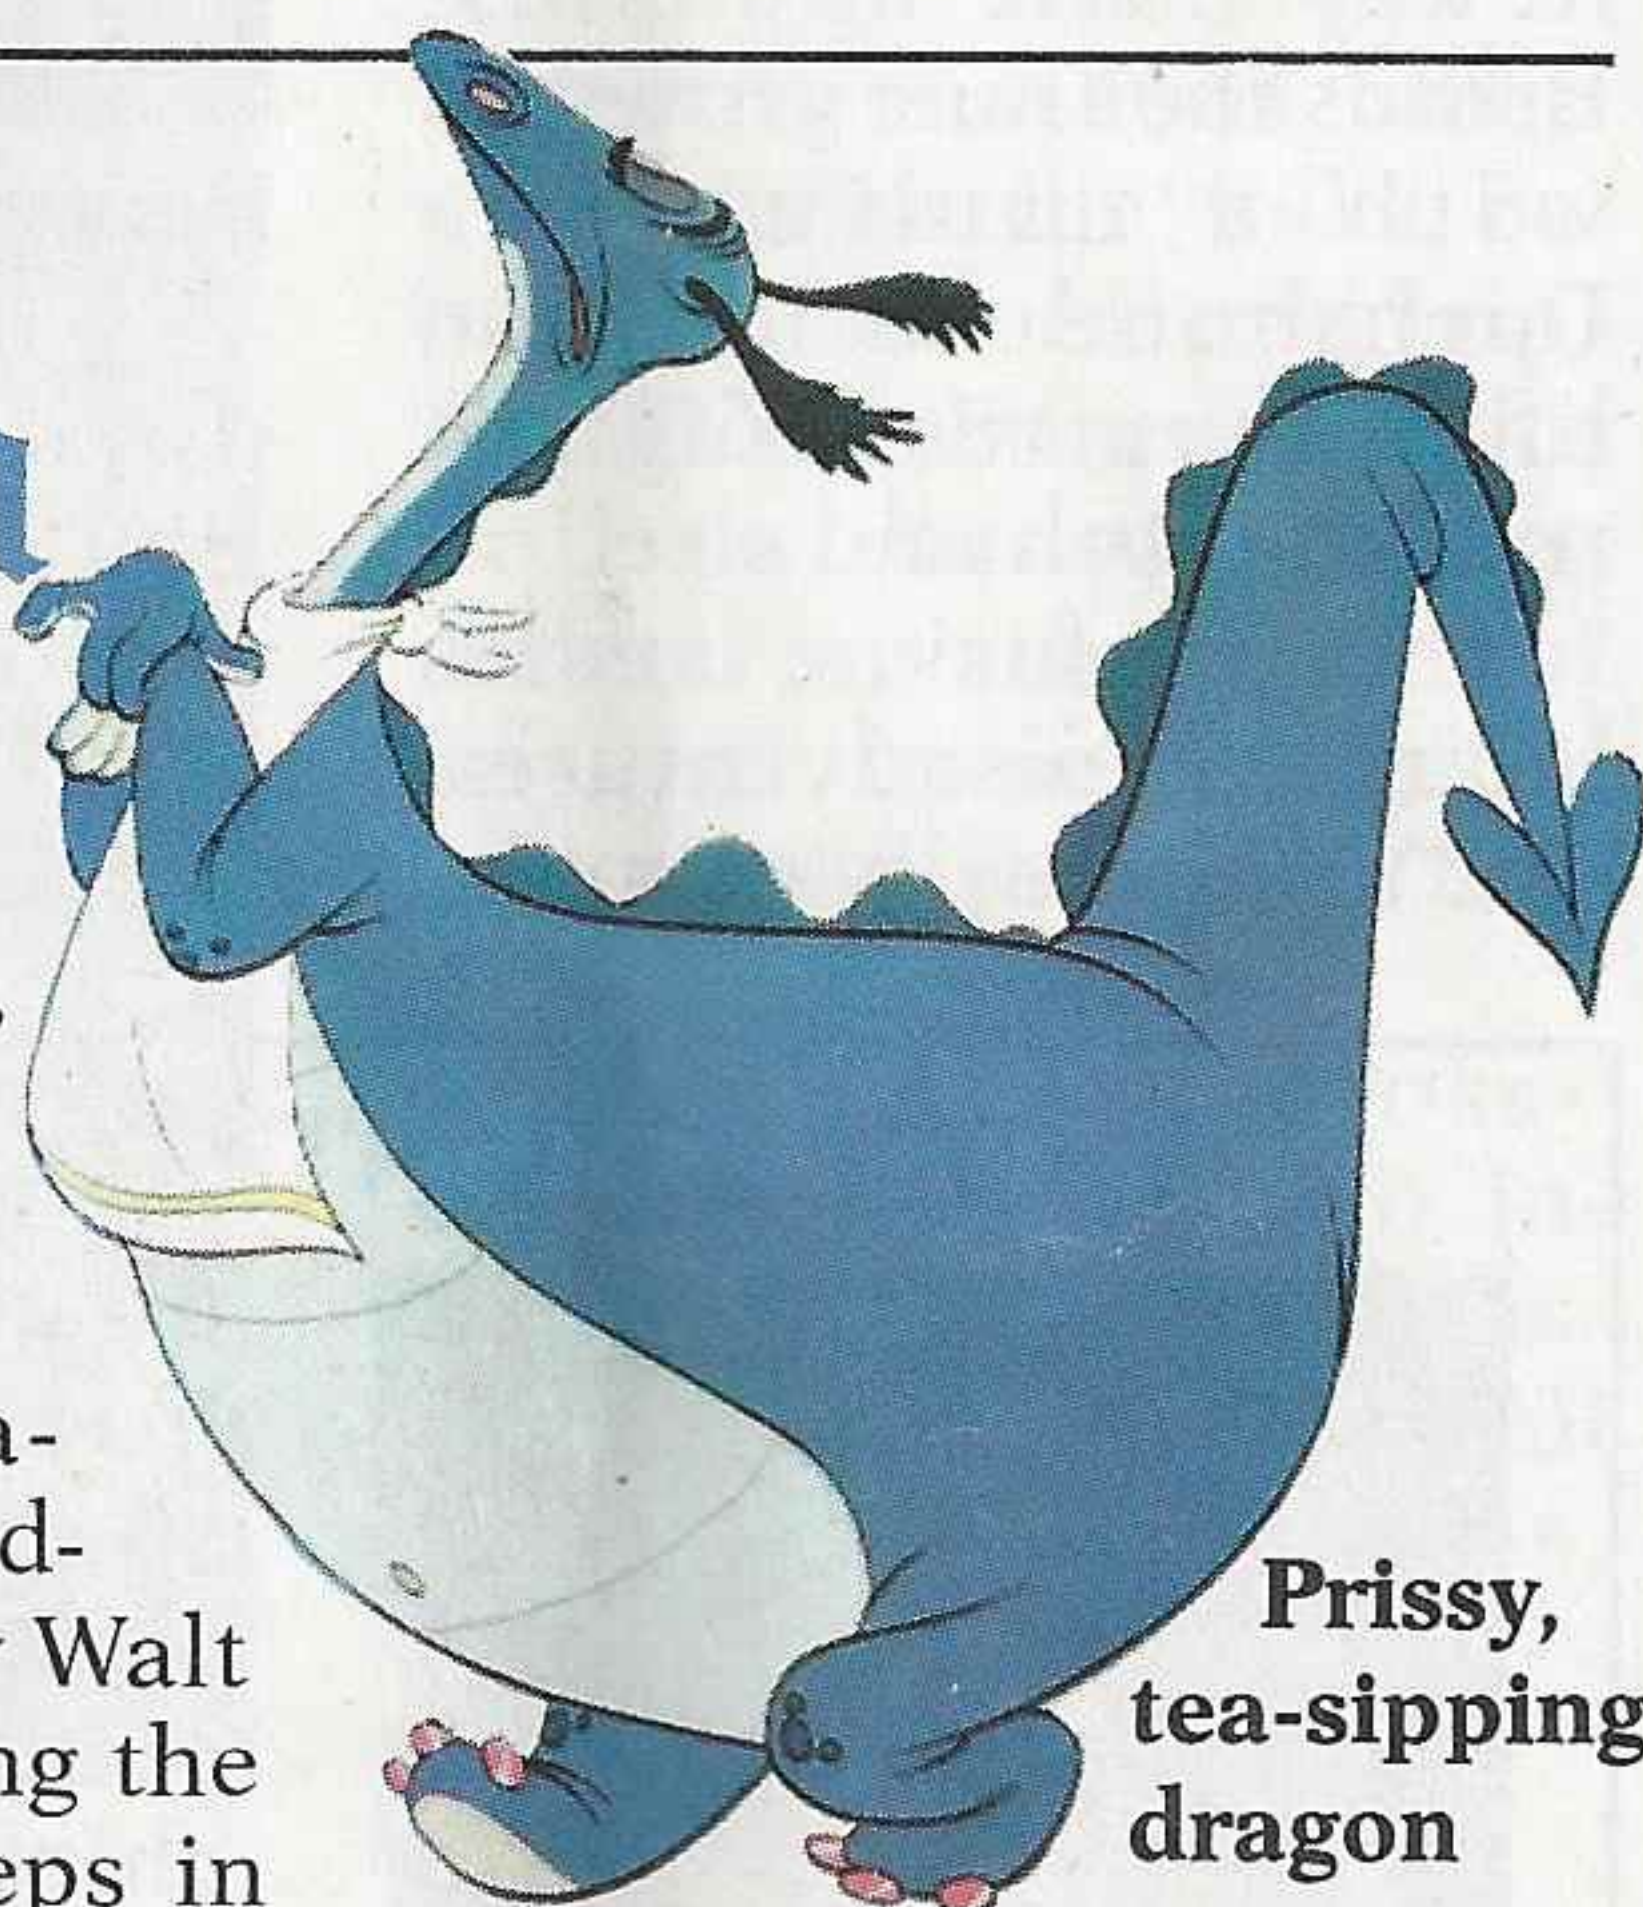

In this engaging and rarely-shown classic, you'll see all the behind-the-screen talent that created the "Golden Age" of Disney movie cartoons actually at work.

Benchley plays a visitor who's trying to sell Walt a story idea. Wandering away from his receptionist-guide, Benchley blunders into every department of the studio. He crashes sound effects stages, story conferences, art classes, recording sessions, model shops and camera setups. He meets artists, animators, writers, ink-and-painters, and finally Walt Disney himself. Along the way he observes steps in the production of "Bambi,"

THE UGLY DACHSHUND

(Dean Jones, Suzanne Pleshette, Charlie Ruggles)

Beware of Brutus, the Great Dane who thinks he's a dachshund.

Trouble starts when a kind-hearted vet slips an orphaned Great Dane pup into newlywed Mark and Fran Garrison's litter of newly-born dachshunds. Brutus the Dane grows up with a diminutive Dachshund outlook on life, never realizing his true strength and size.

This confusion creates hilarious misadventures. And things really go to the

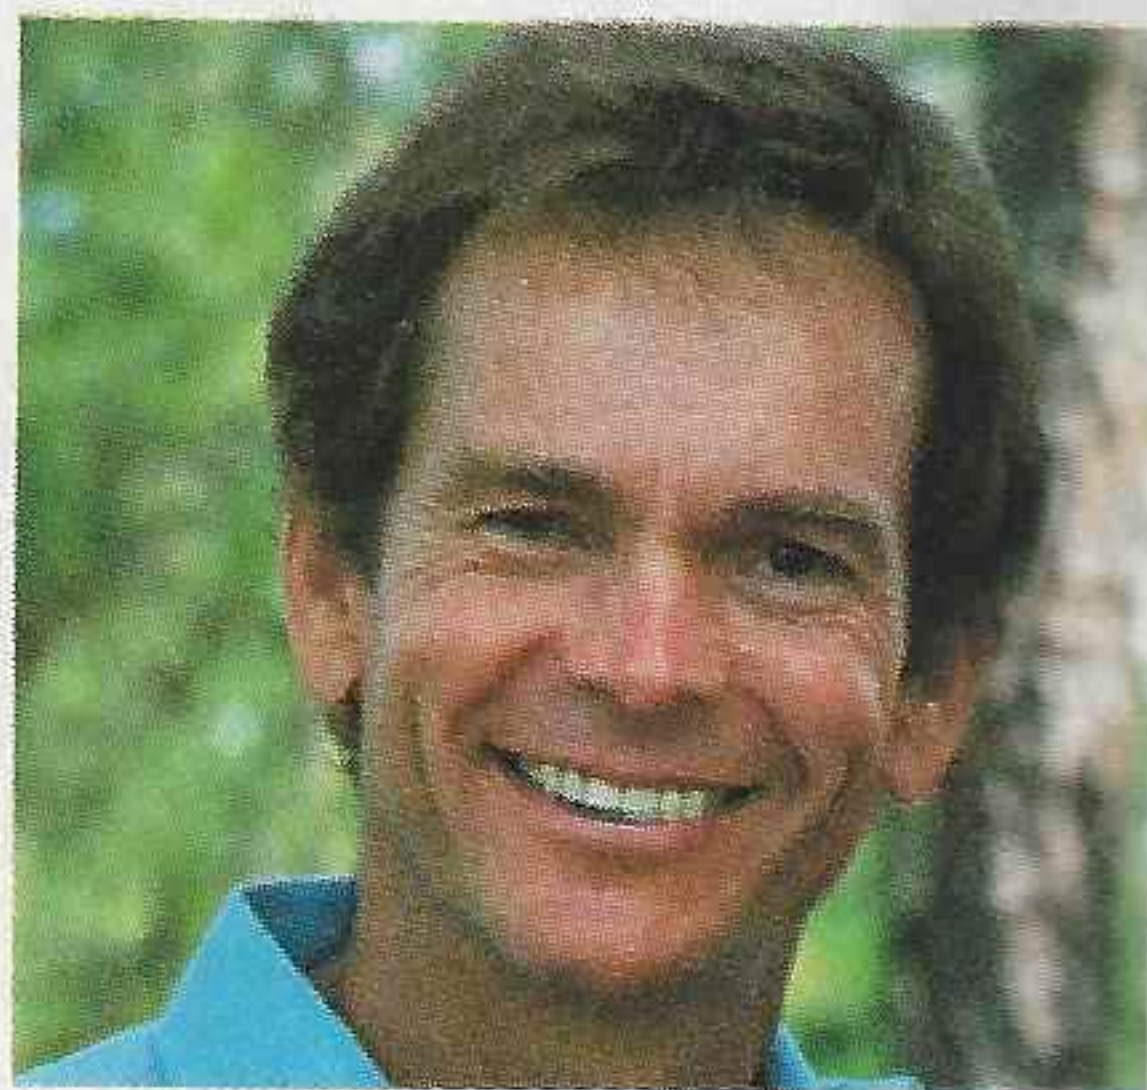

Brutus and buddies protect Suzanne Pleshette dogs when bumbling Brutus barrels into a patio party, upending furniture and spilling guests into the pool.

You'll howl at the outcome of this waggish canine comedy.

MEET THE STAR OF "THE UGLY DACHSHUND"

Jones Shares a Smile

Dean Jones is Walt Disney Productions' most durable non-animated star. Since "That Darn Cat" in 1965, Jones has made nine other films and a TV mini-series for the studio. His co-stars included a Siamese cat, a couple of dogs, some chimpanzees, a horse, a duck and a 1963 Volkswagen beetle named Herbie.

Jones met his match, though, when he was teamed with Brutus, a Great Dane, in "The Ugly Dachshund."

"Brutus had a problem, and the problem was me," Jones recalls.

"The first day of shooting he had to push me backward into a swimming pool. I had to react with an ear-splitting scream and a big splash. The poor dog wasn't expecting anything like that, and it scared him to death. We had to shoot the scene five times, and by then he didn't want any part of me. He wouldn't have anything to do with me for the rest of the picture."

The Slipper and the Rose

All the beauty and splendor of the Cinderella story comes to life in this enchanting musical version.

Richard M. and Robert B. Sherman, who won two Academy Awards for their music in Walt Disney's "Mary Poppins," wrote the songs and collaborated on the screenplay. September 1, 4, 6, 9, 13, 16, 18, 21, 26, 29

NEW FORMAT!

September marks the start of a brand-new format for EPCOT Magazine! It's now a half-hour of great ideas and great experiences, scheduled for early evening, all-family viewing convenience. And it's guaranteed to have something for everyone!

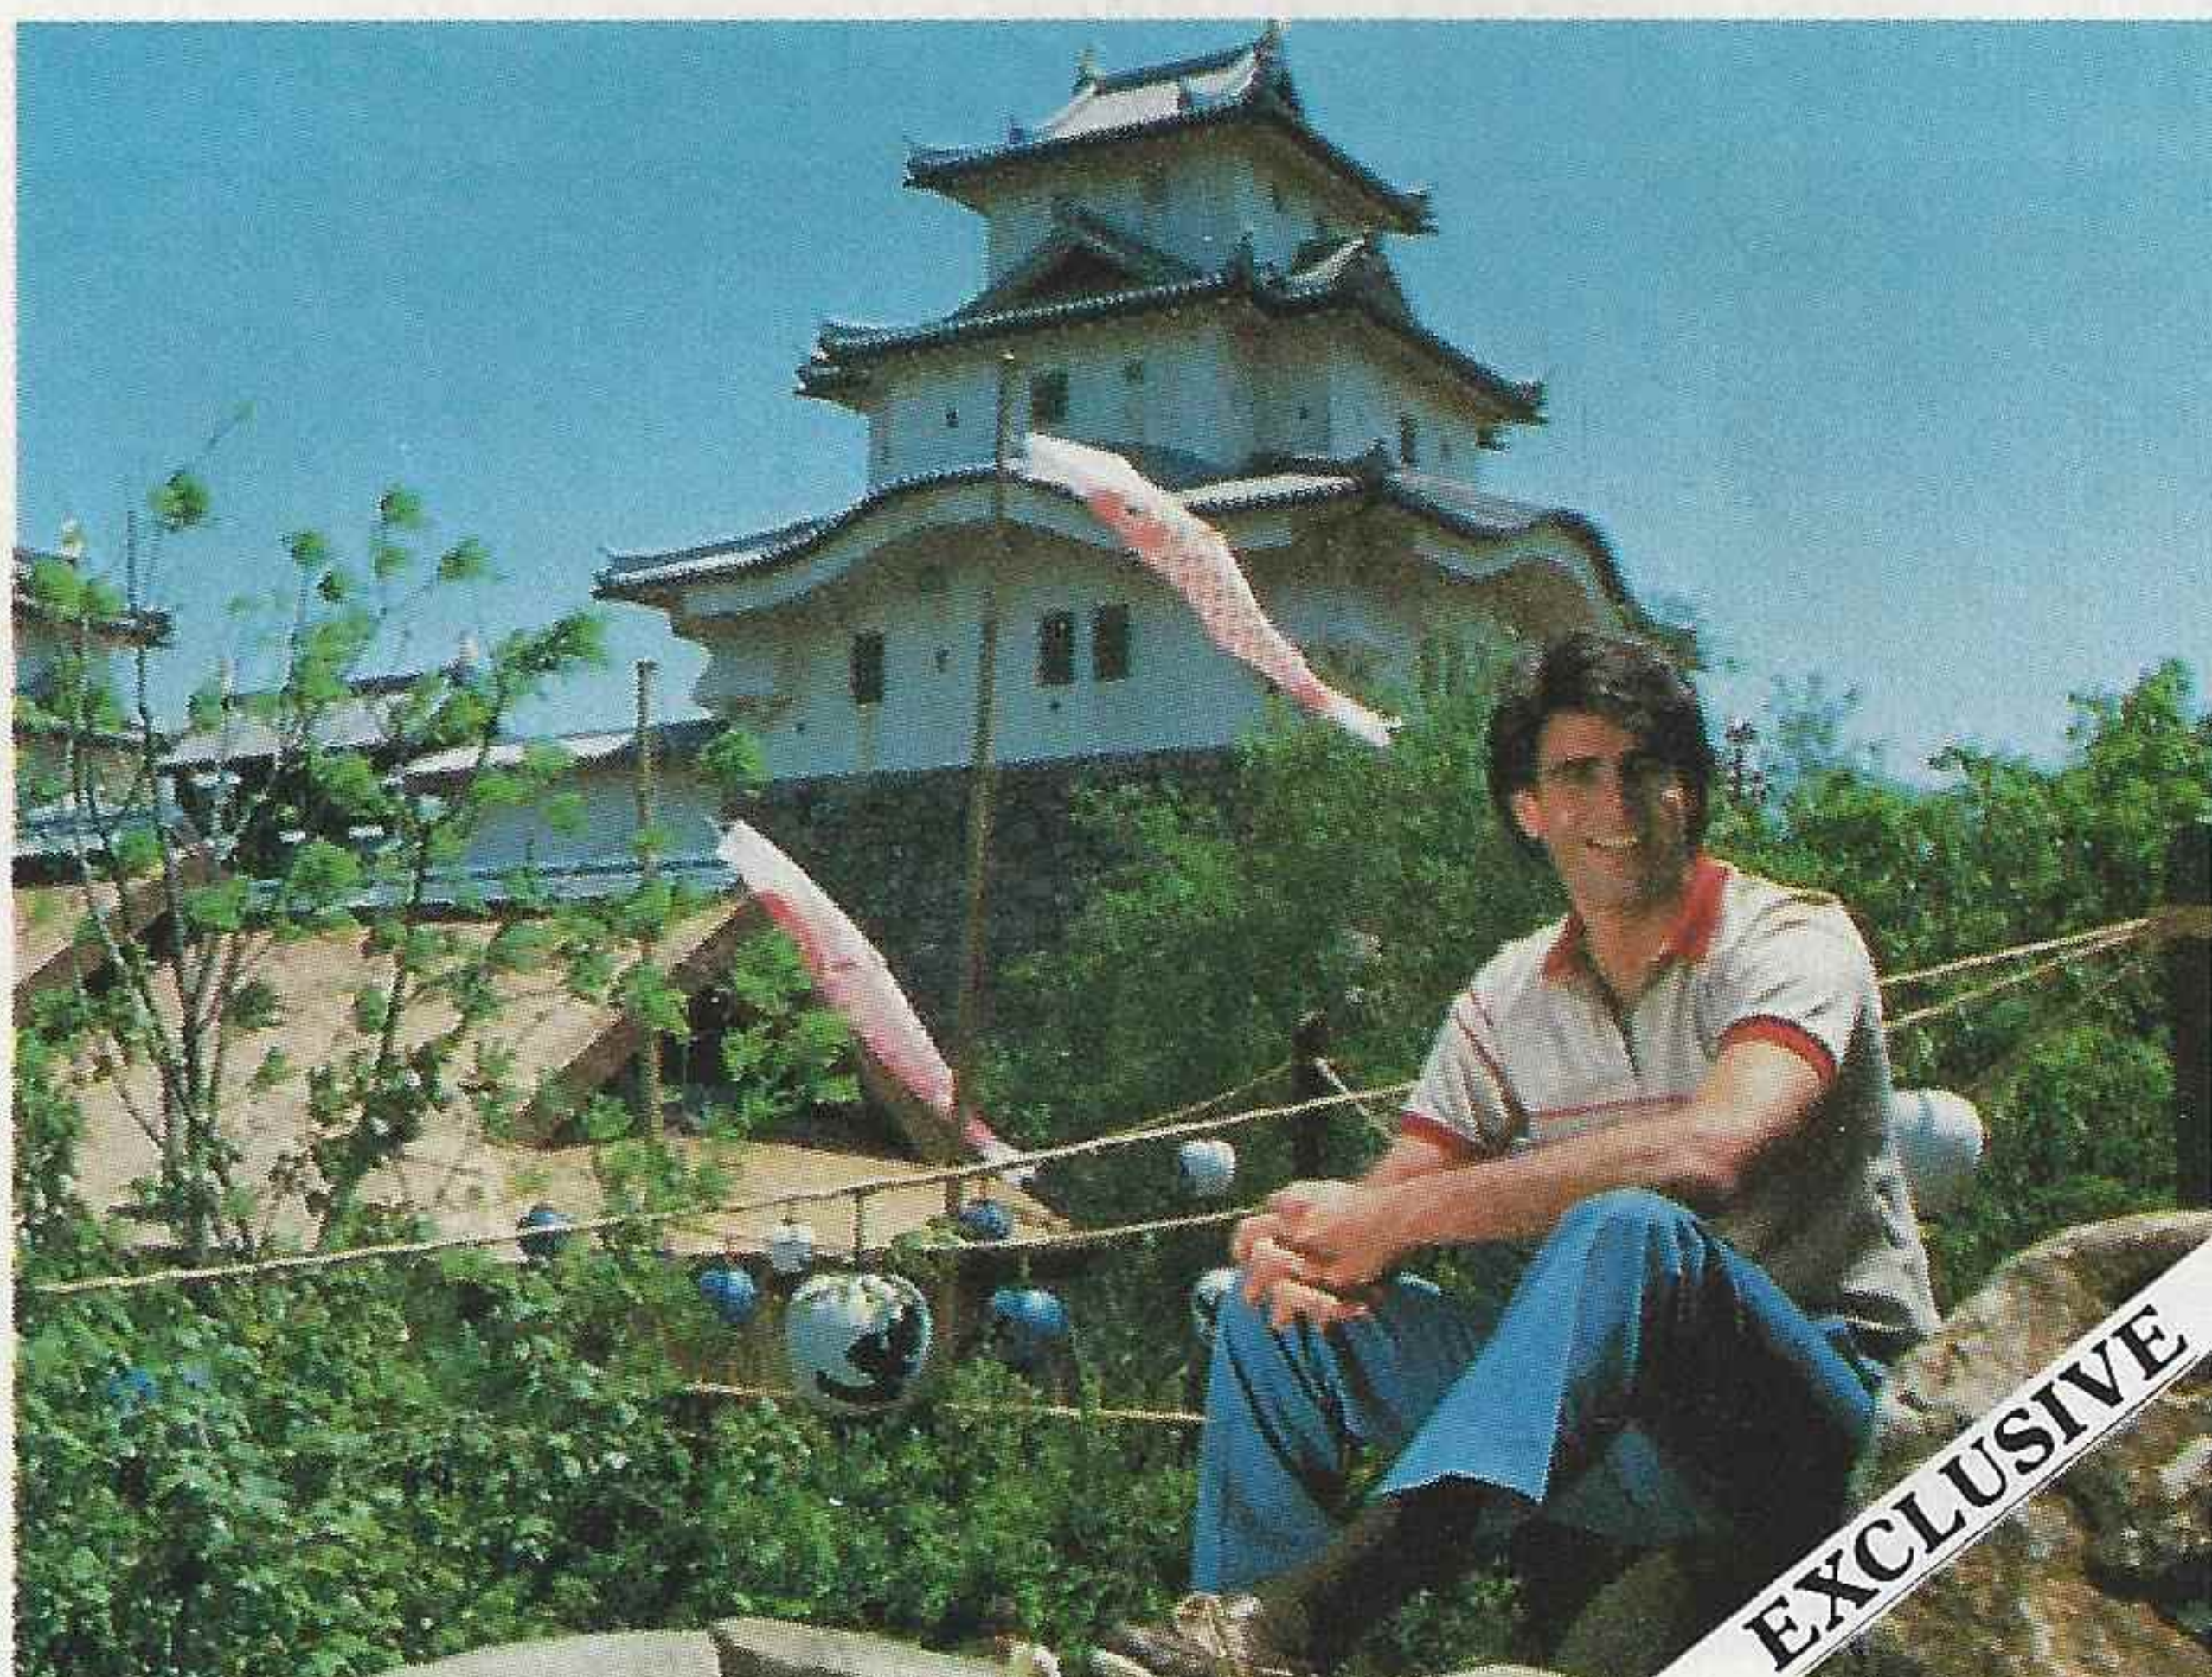

Mark your calendars for your favorite "Great Ideas Tipsters" like Frank Berry. Now they share their wit and wisdom at regularly scheduled times during the month. You'll also be treated to five consecutive visits with special guest "Tipsters of the Week," such as Dr. Joyce Brothers. Take her "Back-To - School - Homework Quiz" (see page 30) on how to prepare yourself and your kids for the business of learning.

Frank Berry shares a tip

Three stories are featured nightly. First you'll join host Michael Young and celebrity co-hostesses Jessica Walter, Carol Lawrence and Barbara Bosson for a tour of EPCOT Center. On-the-site visits to different pavilions, interviews with the folks behind the scenes, and trips to EPCOT Future Choice Poll to discover what Americans think about current issues provide you with a personal "EPCOT Experience."

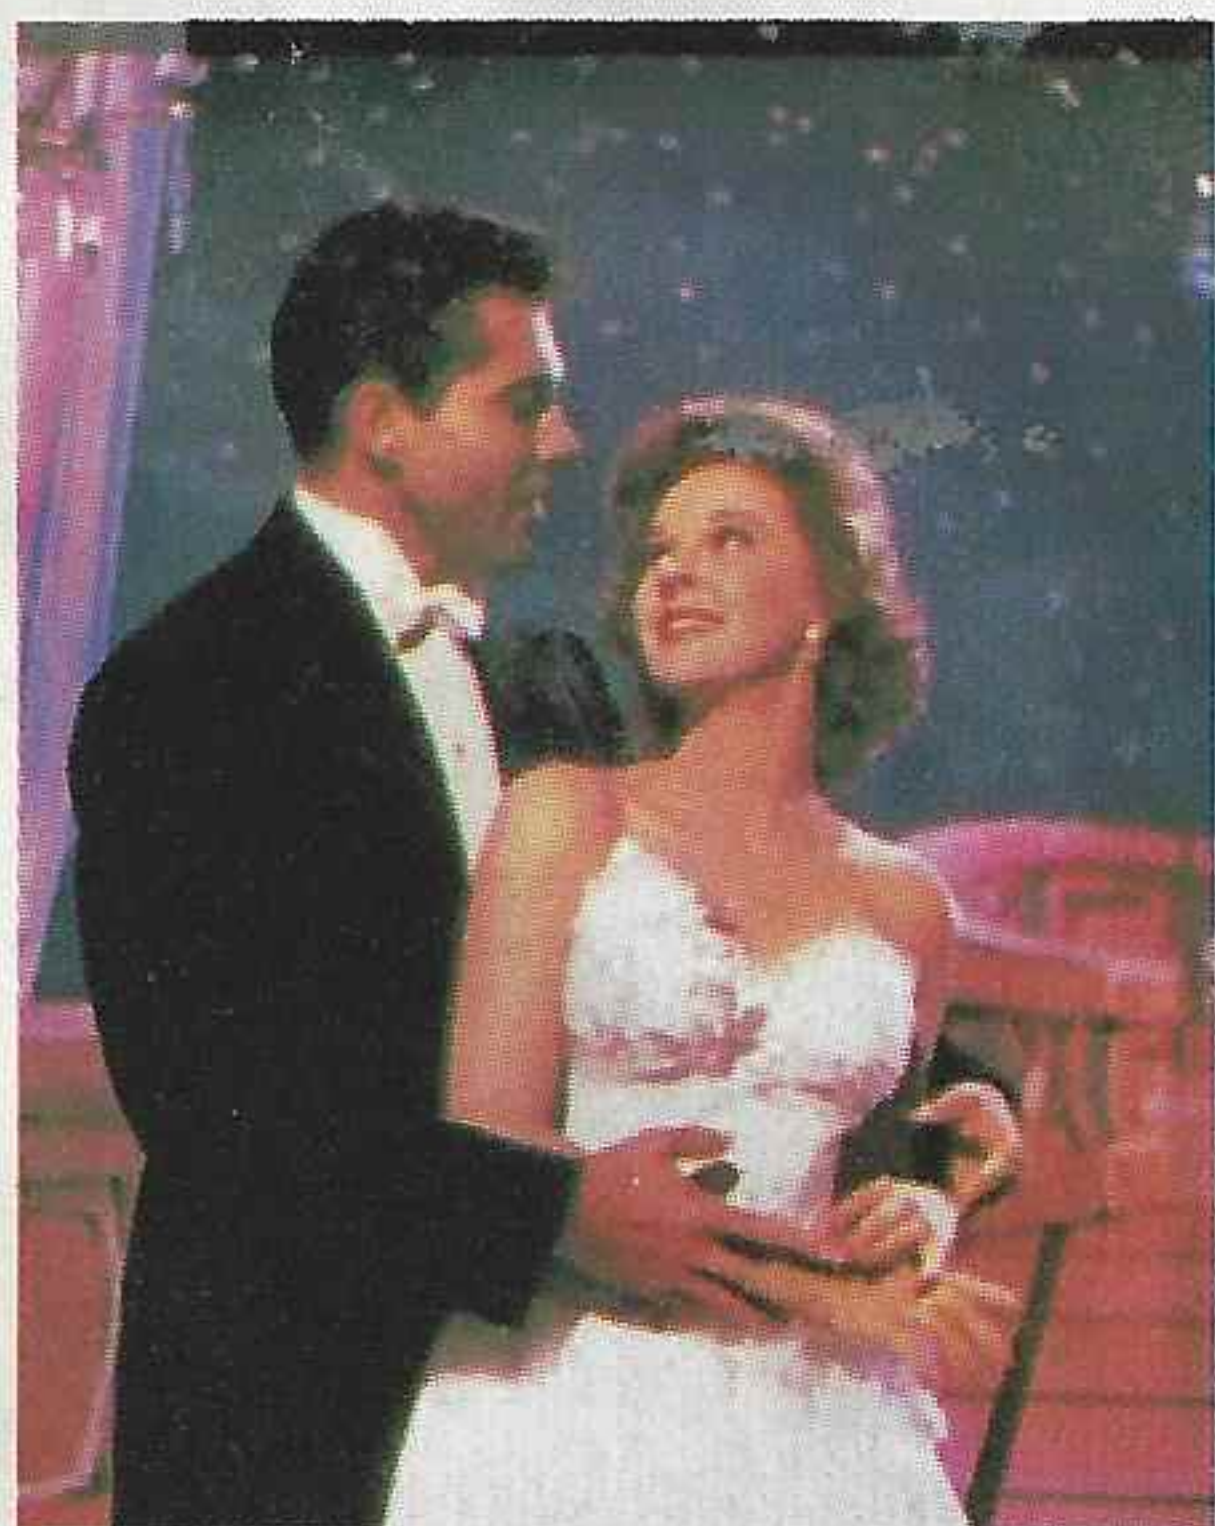

Then take a cross-country trip for two in-depth stories about fascinating people, beautiful places and unique ideas.

WITH A SONG IN MY HEART

(Susan Hayward,
Rory Calhoun, David Wayne,
Thelma Ritter, Robert Wagner)

Hayward as Jane Froman

Glow to the music of yesteryear and the heartwarming story of Jane Froman, singing star of the 1940s whose career nearly ended with a wartime airplane crash.

Susan Hayward portrays the St. Louis girl who began as a radio singer, progressed to stardom, and was disabled in a plane wreck while entertaining American soldiers overseas.

Her courageous recovery, with the help of a pilot who also survived the near-fatal accident, provides a happy ending. And throughout this romantic, inspiring film you'll hear Jane Froman's own voice singing all the songs that made her famous, including Tea for Two, Blue Moon, That Old Feeling, I'm Through with Love and notably, With a Song in My Heart.

Get your pennant, raccoon coat and megaphone, and grab a seat for "Football Now and Then." George Plimpton leads the cheers in this 1953 Disney-eye view of football as it's never been played before—or since!

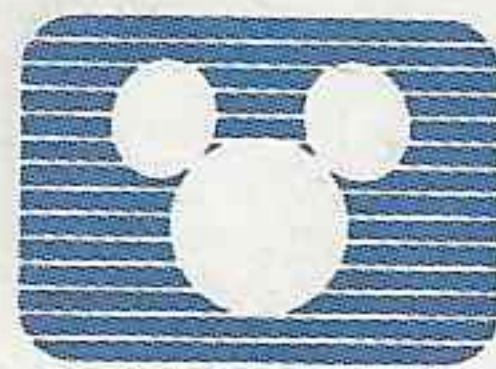

Schoolmaster Goofy rings for attention

Then, with Goofy as his guest star, Plimpton takes you back to class for a "Goofy" look at those good old golden rule days in "Teachers Are People."

The Indian jungle is only a step away from the blackboard jungle for the Goof, and he finds himself in trouble—"Tiger Trouble"—in another cartoon.

Join George Plimpton as he calls the plays on a superbowl, superstar collection of classic Disney cartoons.

Showing throughout the week.

BY POPULAR DEMAND... DONALD HOSTS A NEW AFTERNOON CARTOON SERIES

Welcome an old friend to a brand new show of his own! "Donald Duck Presents" is a half-hour of cartoon fun highlighted by featurettes from the Disney Studio's library of animated educational films. It's all new and exclusively yours on The Disney Channel!

Among this month's frolics you'll see Don quack up during a baffling golf game with his nephews, horse around with a stubborn roan at a dude ranch, hit the road in a house trailer with Mickey Mouse and Goofy, and bearly escape an angry bruin while camping out.

You'll catch up with another pal too, as Goofy does something big by washing an elephant and teaching his son how to water ski.

Then let Donald show you, with the help of a duck-like pixie named J. J. Fate, "How to Have an Accident in the Home." It's an object lesson stressing safety, and illustrating the premise that accidents are avoidable.

"Sweet Potato Pie Shop"

Let Huell Howser, the human-interest reporter whose beat is countrywide, take you to an offbeat bakery in Culver City, California. Its owner, Stephen Lindsay, employs black children in the neighborhood and sells sweet potato pies made from his grandmother's recipe toward fulfilling his dream of seeing "pie on everybody's Huell Howser table." Relish this treat immediately following "Milestones in Animation" (see page 11).

"The Sun"

Enjoy an extraordinary fine arts film from Czechoslovakia. This motion picture by the widely honored writer-director Vaclav Hapl celebrates our nearest star as a phenomenon through which the history of mankind can be read. It is featured with "Tex" (see page 18).

"Hooray for Hollywood"

Witness the sport of kings as only a privileged few have ever seen it. Producer Warren Miller's cameras move into the restricted stable and paddock areas of Southern California's famed Hollywood Park race track for close-ups of champions like the $15 million thoroughbred Affirmed. Long lenses and slow motion cameras are trained from railside positions on horses in action. The result is a racing film of surpassing excitement, cofeatured with "The Slipper and the Rose" (see page 12.)

"My Hawaii"

Jet with Warren Miller to Hawaii for an unusual tour of the islands, focusing on the heritage and customs of natives who trace their origins to Polynesian explorers of 1,800 years ago. Miller guides you through an island paradise rich in legends and artistry. This exotic, informative featurette won Cindy and Golden Eagle awards in international film competitions. It follows "The Ugly Dachshund" (see page 12).

"My Lady of Milk and Wafers"

Get acquainted with eight-year-old Juanito and 12-year-old Julio, urchins in a Mexican port town and partners in the game of survival. Juanito's honest and idealistic, Julio street-smart and realistic. A predicament with a cafe waitress profoundly affects them both. This eloquent half-hour film follows "Benjamin Franklin: The Ambassador" (see page 19).

THE ACTS

PROCESSION OF SPECIALS, FEATURETTES, ON THE DISNEY CHANNEL!

"Duck for Hire"

Join Donald as he beats the pavement in search of gainful employment. When he walks off his job at the Disney Studio, he gets a well-deserved lesson in looking for work—and keeping it.

After bungling not-so-budding careers as a carnival worker, truant officer and lighthouse keeper, Donald goes into business for himself. But his nutbutter stand raises the ire of two cheeky customers, Chip'n Dale, when they discover Donald filching from their winter supplies!

Donald loses the nutbutter battle and when the Disney Studio calls him back to work, he's overjoyed to return, by now a wiser, if not wealthier duck.

September 11, 17

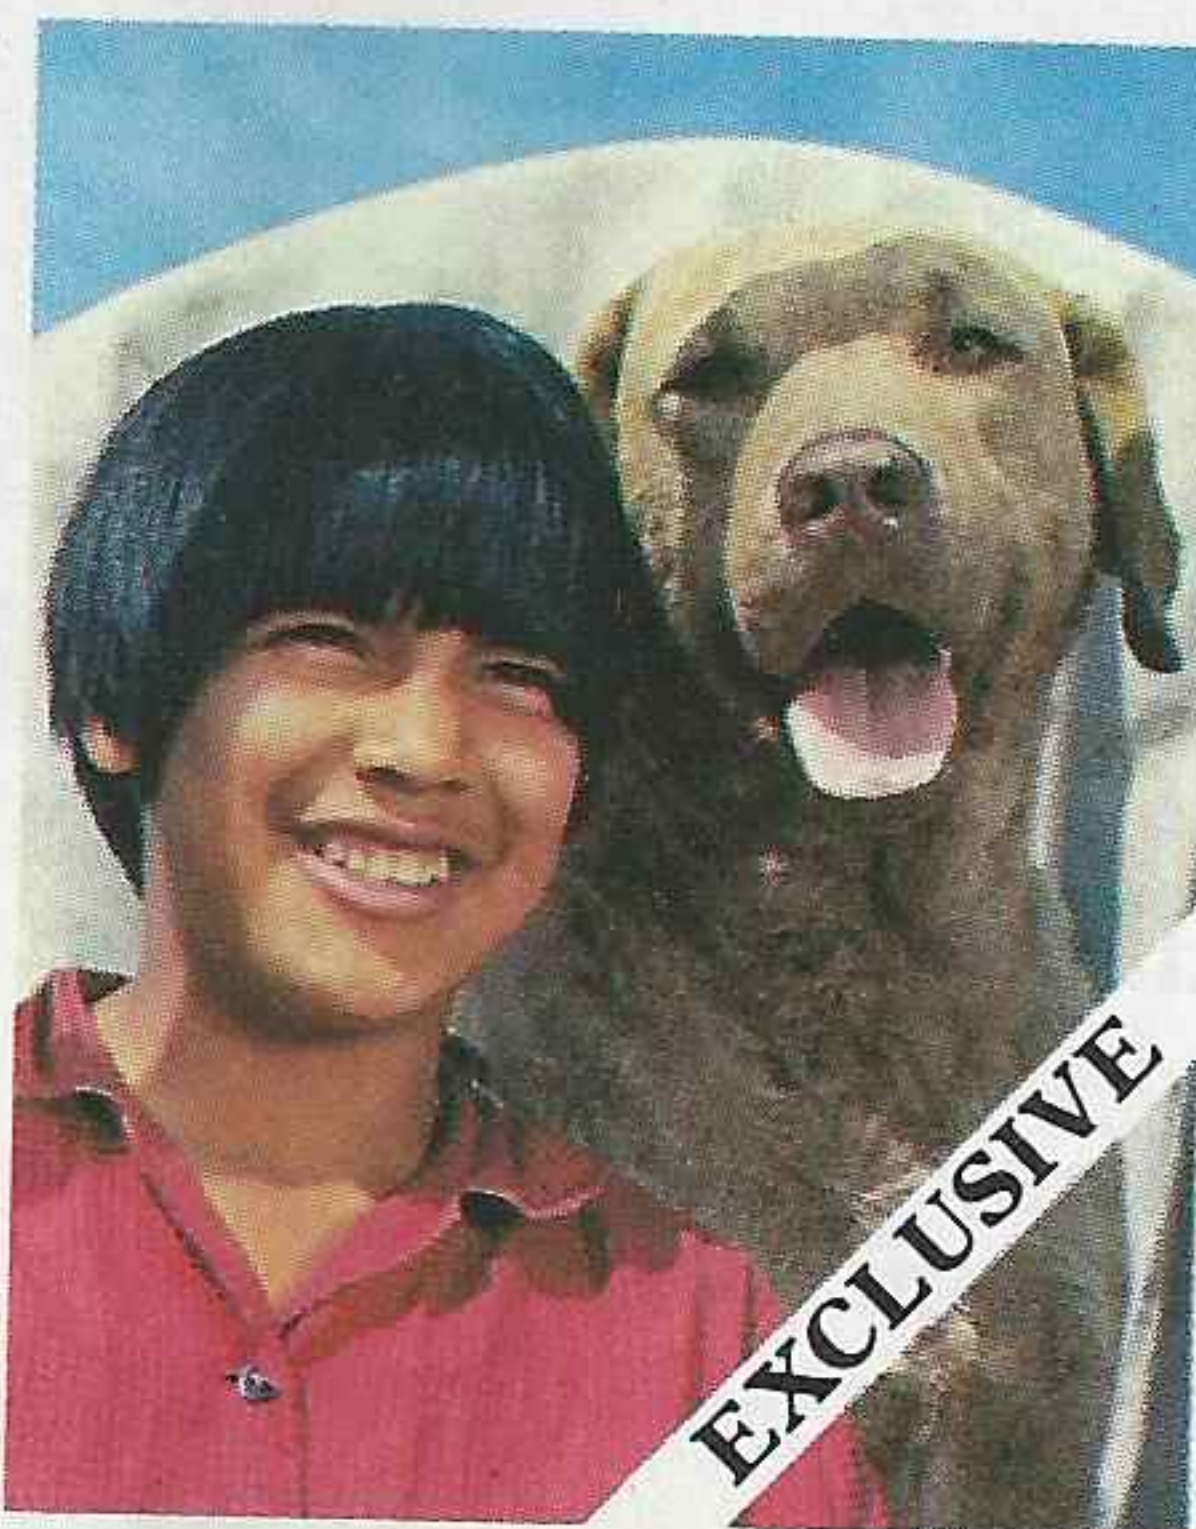

"The Feather Farm"

Get a different bird's-eye view of the Great American West from this fabulously funny tale! It's the story of two Bostonian socialites who hope to "feather their nest" by taking up ranching with an odd twist. Their plan? To raise ostriches and sell the fashionable plumes for profit.

Things go awry when the birds go astray in the desert and join a remuda of mustangs. The ladies are ready to call it quits until some cowboys stage an unforgettable trail-drive with unusual results.

September 9, 24

"Pancho, Fastest Paw in the West"

Round up a runaway orphan boy, a loyal pooch and a friendly peddler, then match the three against a wily horse thief who's out to put them out of business for a story with as much excitement as a rodeo!

It's the good guys (and dog) against the bad guys, and Pancho saves the day when he gets his man in the doggonedest showdown you've ever seen!

TEX

(Matt Dillon,
Jim Metzler,
Meg Tilly,
Ben Johnson)

Based on the popular S. E. Hinton book, "Tex" is a timely story of two teenage boys coping with life without parental supervision.

Tex (Matt Dillon) and Mace (Jim Metzler) are as different as brothers can be. Fifteen-year-old Tex is impulsive, defiant, and a practical joker. Seventeen-year-old Mace, serious and responsible, runs the motherless household while their father is away.

In this realistic and uncompromising movie, Tex faces the challenges of coming of age. He must make tough moral judgments and face squarely the challenges of modern teens.

Matt Dillon stars as Tex, a troubled teenager

"Tex" has been praised by critics as a sensitive yet straightforward treatment of growing up in the 1980s. It was filmed on location near the author's home in Tulsa (see page 2).

THE THREE LIVES OF

Thomasina

(Patrick McGoochan, Susan Hampshire, Karen Dotrice, Matthew Garber)

Purr with pleasure over the wondrous adventures of Thomasina, an enchanted cat in a world full of ordinary humans.

In a remote Scottish village lives a widowed veterinarian, his daughter, and her mysterious marmalade cat Thomasina. In the dark woods nearby lives Lori, a strange young woman believed to be a witch.

After an incurable disease sends Thomasina to cat heaven, she returns to earth and Lori, the only person who understands her magic.

From now on, Thomasina changes the lives of those about her in wonderful ways. She is able to improve the fortunes of the veterinarian, reconcile him with his daughter, and increase the fantastic powers of the beautiful "witch" Lori.

She also works a final miracle that surprises and amazes them all.

Karen Dotrice takes Thomasina for an outing

EPISODE III OF THE INSPIRING SERIES ABOUT AMERICA'S GREAT STATESMAN

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN: THE AMBASSADOR

(Eddie Albert, Alexis Smith, Gig Young)

Embark for France with Benjamin Franklin and follow him into a web of intrigue at the Court of Louis XIV.

Although in his seventies, Franklin has been appointed ambassador to France. The Revolutionary War is raging at home, and the colonial army is struggling desperately to survive.

Franklin charms the French into financing the American forces, but as time goes on he is forced to initiate a brilliant political deception to keep the money flowing and his precious new nation afloat.

Plot and counterplot provide suspense in this third episode of Franklin's life story.

Benjamin Franklin (Eddie Albert) enjoys a celebration at Versailles

September 2, 5, 8, 13, 15, 18, 20, 22, 26, 28

ZORRO

(Guy Williams, Henry Calvin, Gene Sheldon)

Zorro, the masked avenger, returns by popular demand! Thrill to his deeds of derring-do once more as he battles injustice in romantic Old California.

Mystery and adventure prevail when the caballero who masquerades as Zorro and Sgt. Garcia defend themselves a dandy by day leaves his unmistakable mark of the

"Z" wherever he rides. Mon.-Fri., 7:30 p.m.

BECAUSE HE'S MY FRIEND

(Karen Black, Keir Dullea, Jack Thompson)

Take heart with Academy Award nominee Karen Black and Keir Dullea in this uplifting movie about the trials and triumphs of raising an exceptional child.

They play a married couple whose 12-year-old son, although cheerful and affectionate, is mentally retarded. With the help of counselors and instructors at a special school, the family achieves needed peace

Devoted parents with son and happiness.

This is entertainment to be shared by all. Grownups will appreciate the fine performances and honest story. Youngsters will sympathize with the boy's frustrations, and find many of their questions about retarded children answered.

MICKEY'S Just for Kids SECTION

Hi there!

Boy am I excited! Know why? Because this month you're going to see more of me and my pals than ever before! You have told us that you'd like to see more cartoon adventures so we've added another part to GOOD MORNING, MICKEY! and even given Donald his very own show, DONALD DUCK PRESENTS. (Donald thinks it's about time too!)

There are lots of other films and programs you'll enjoy this month too. Plus plenty of after-school activities just for you in "Just for Kids," like learning to draw me, or writing a comic strip joke for Donald!

So, here's to a great school year for you. I'm sure glad that all of us here at The Disney Channel are going to be part of your fun!

Your Pal,

MICKEY MOUSE

Donald's CHANNEL CHATTER

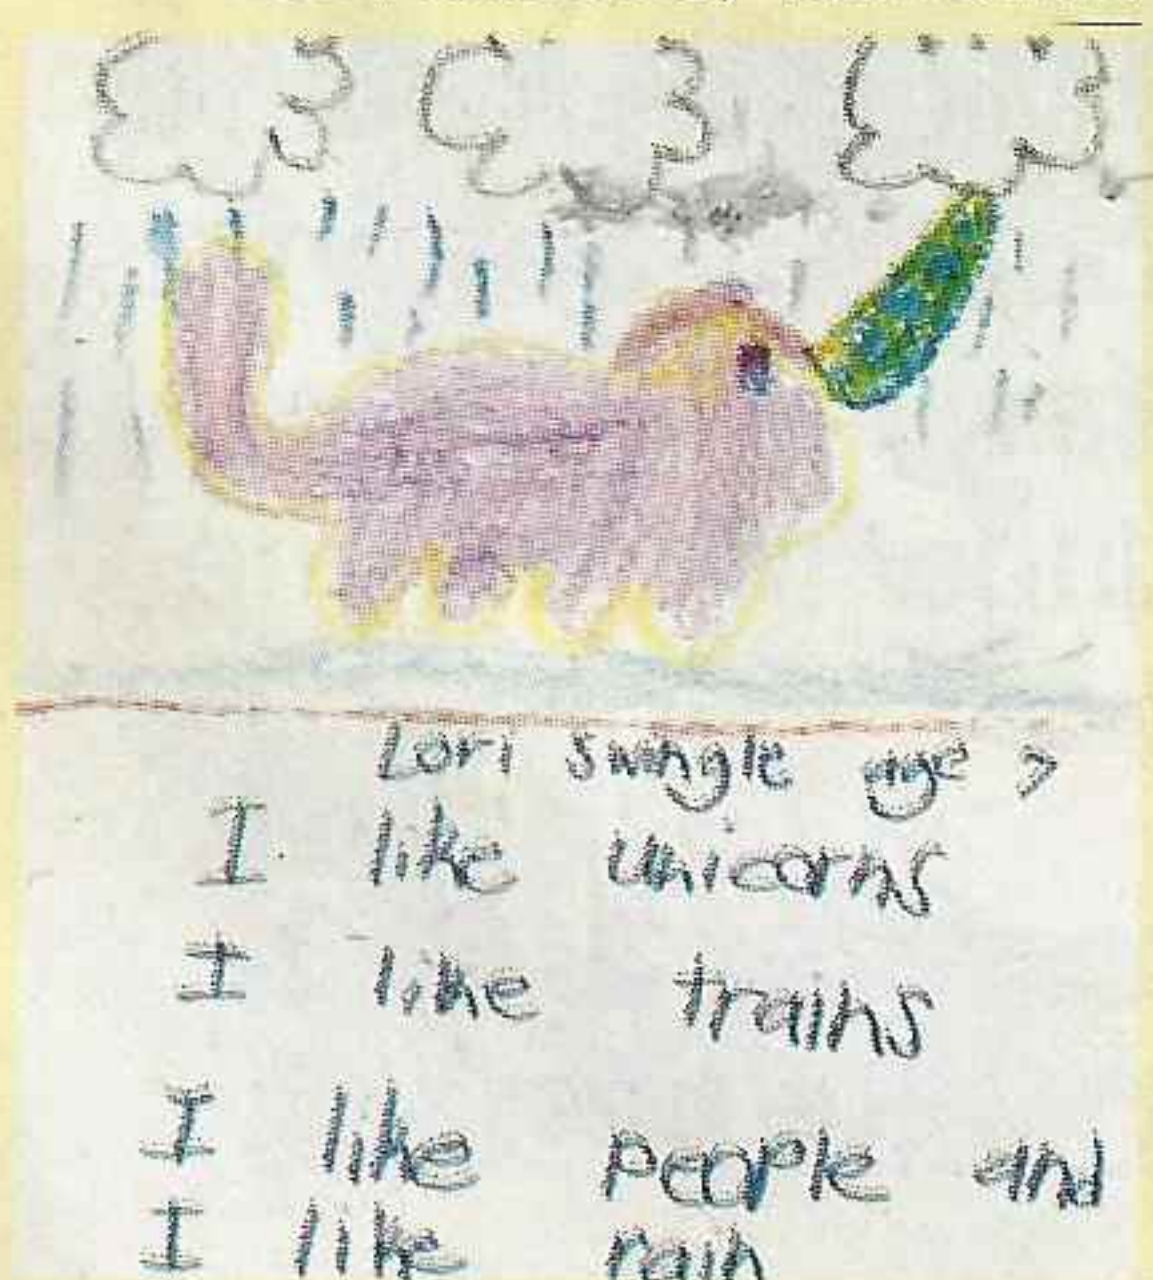

We've received so many wonderful drawings that we've decided to show some of them on The Disney Channel.

If you'd like to have a chance to see your picture on television, send us your own, original drawing (no tracing please) of anything you'd like. Draw it in color, on white, unlined paper (typing paper is good, and drawing with the paper turned on its side works best for TV). Put your name, hometown, and age; the name of your cable system and the title of your picture on the back.

HOW TO DRAW MICKEY!

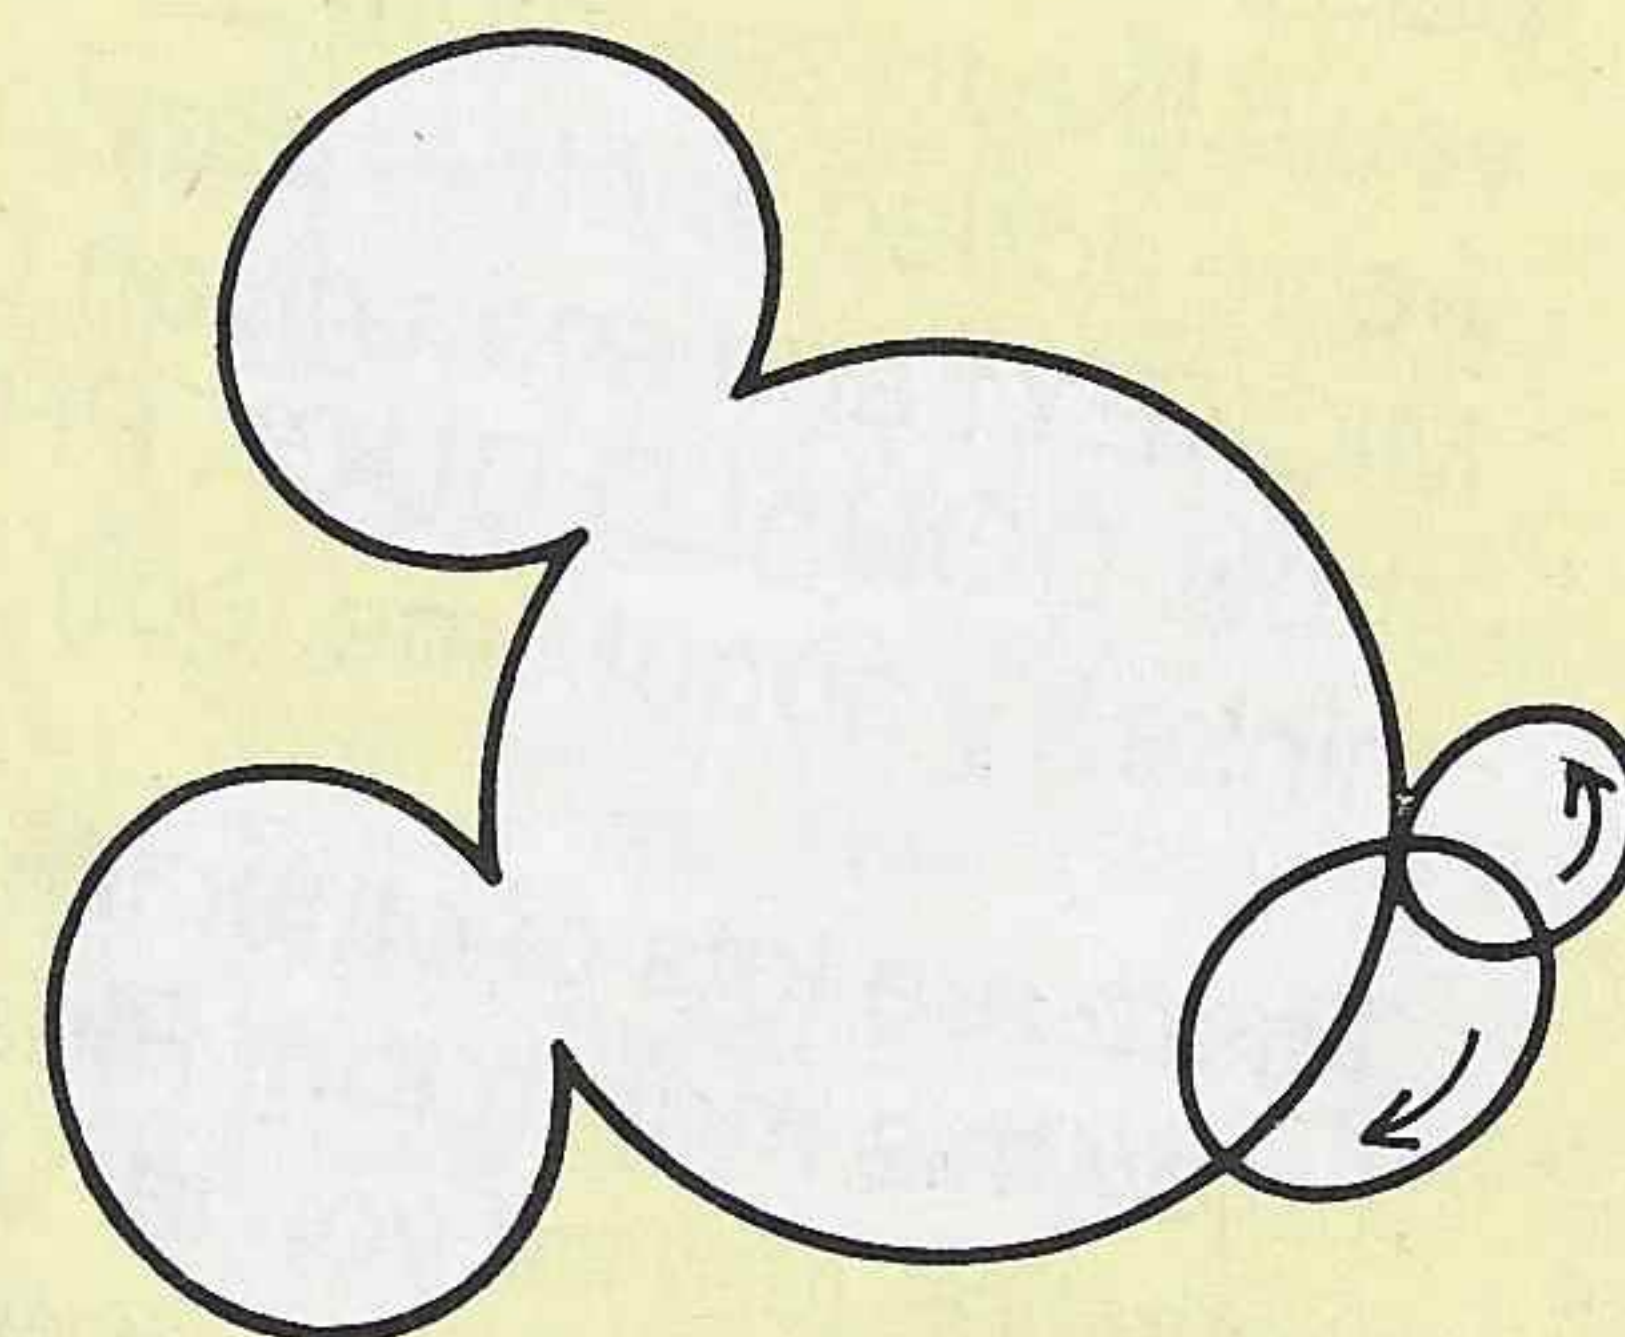

Walt Disney first drew Mickey Mouse over 50 years ago. Mickey's changed a lot since then. Try your hand at drawing Mickey yourself.

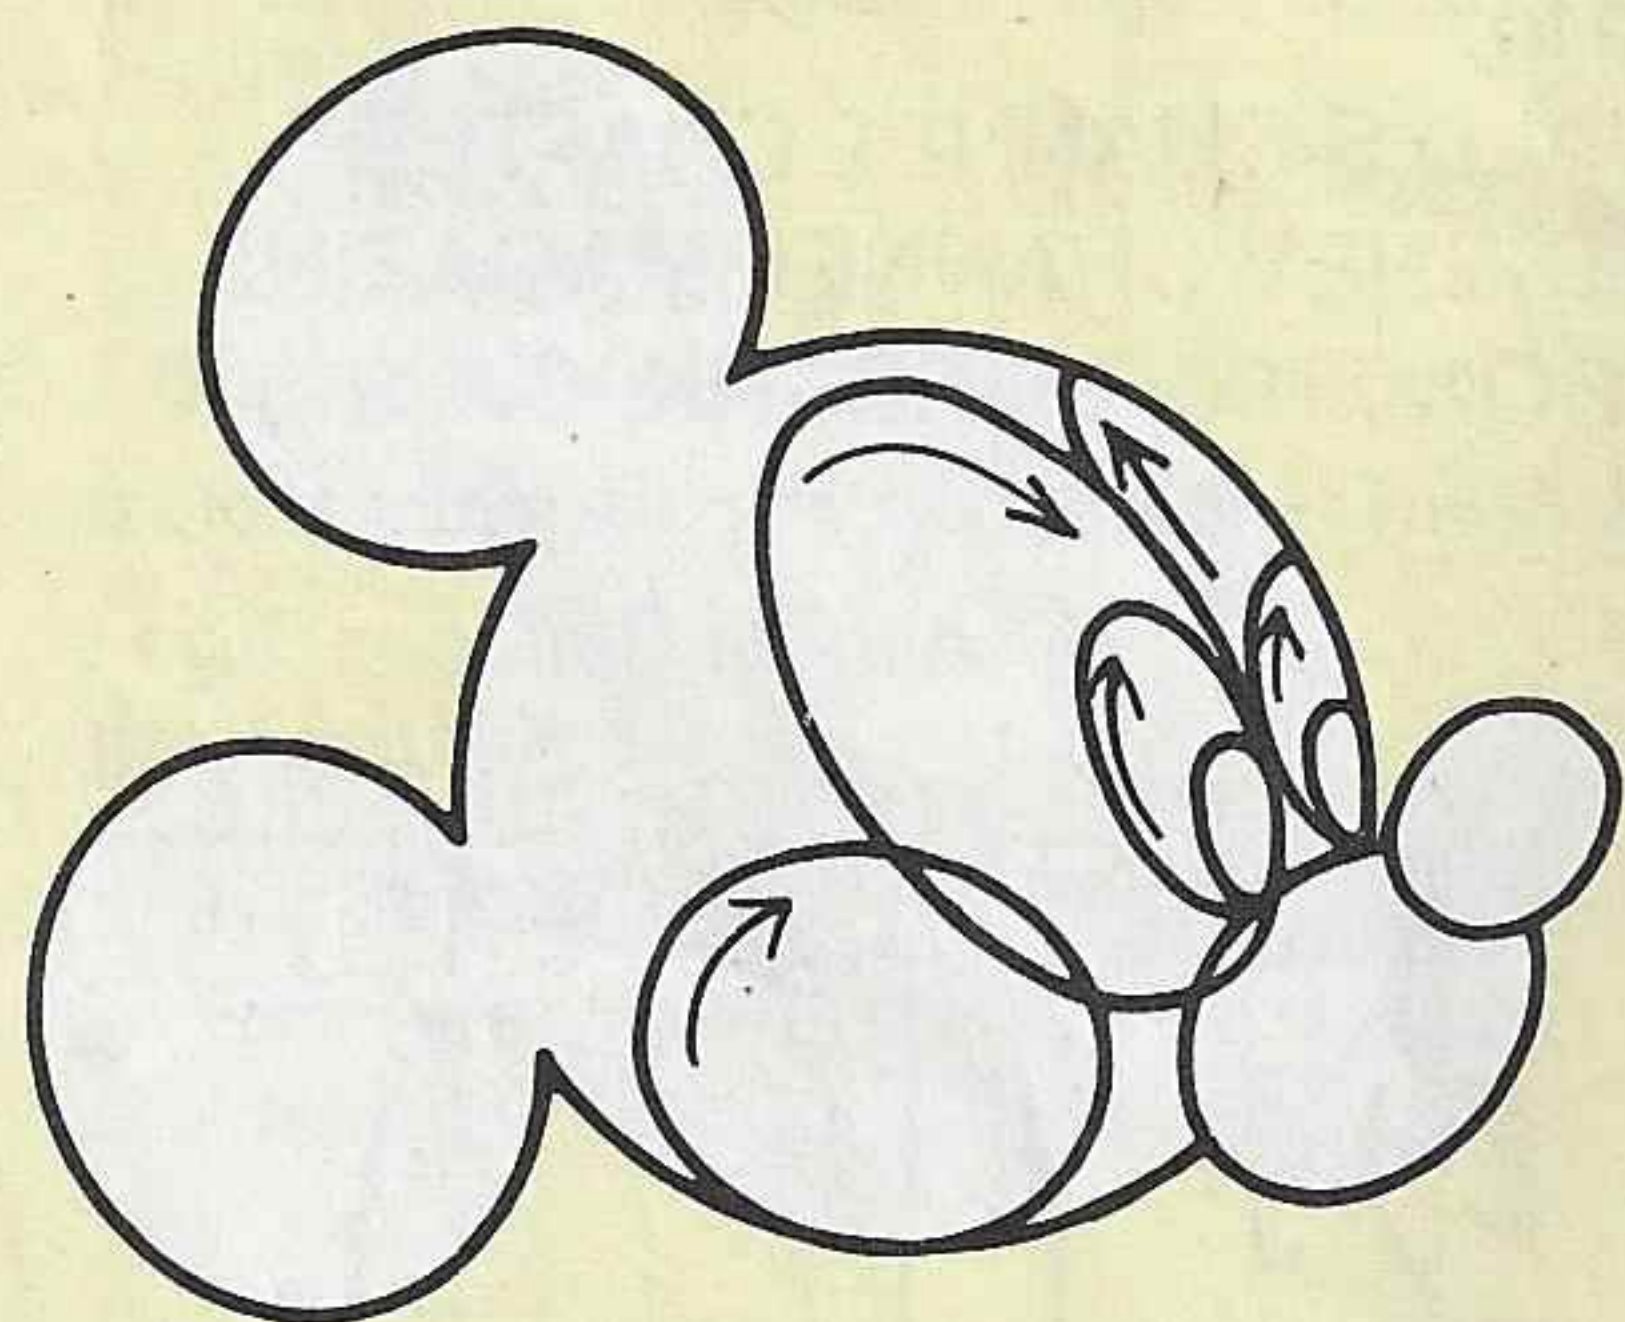

1 Start with a circle for the head.

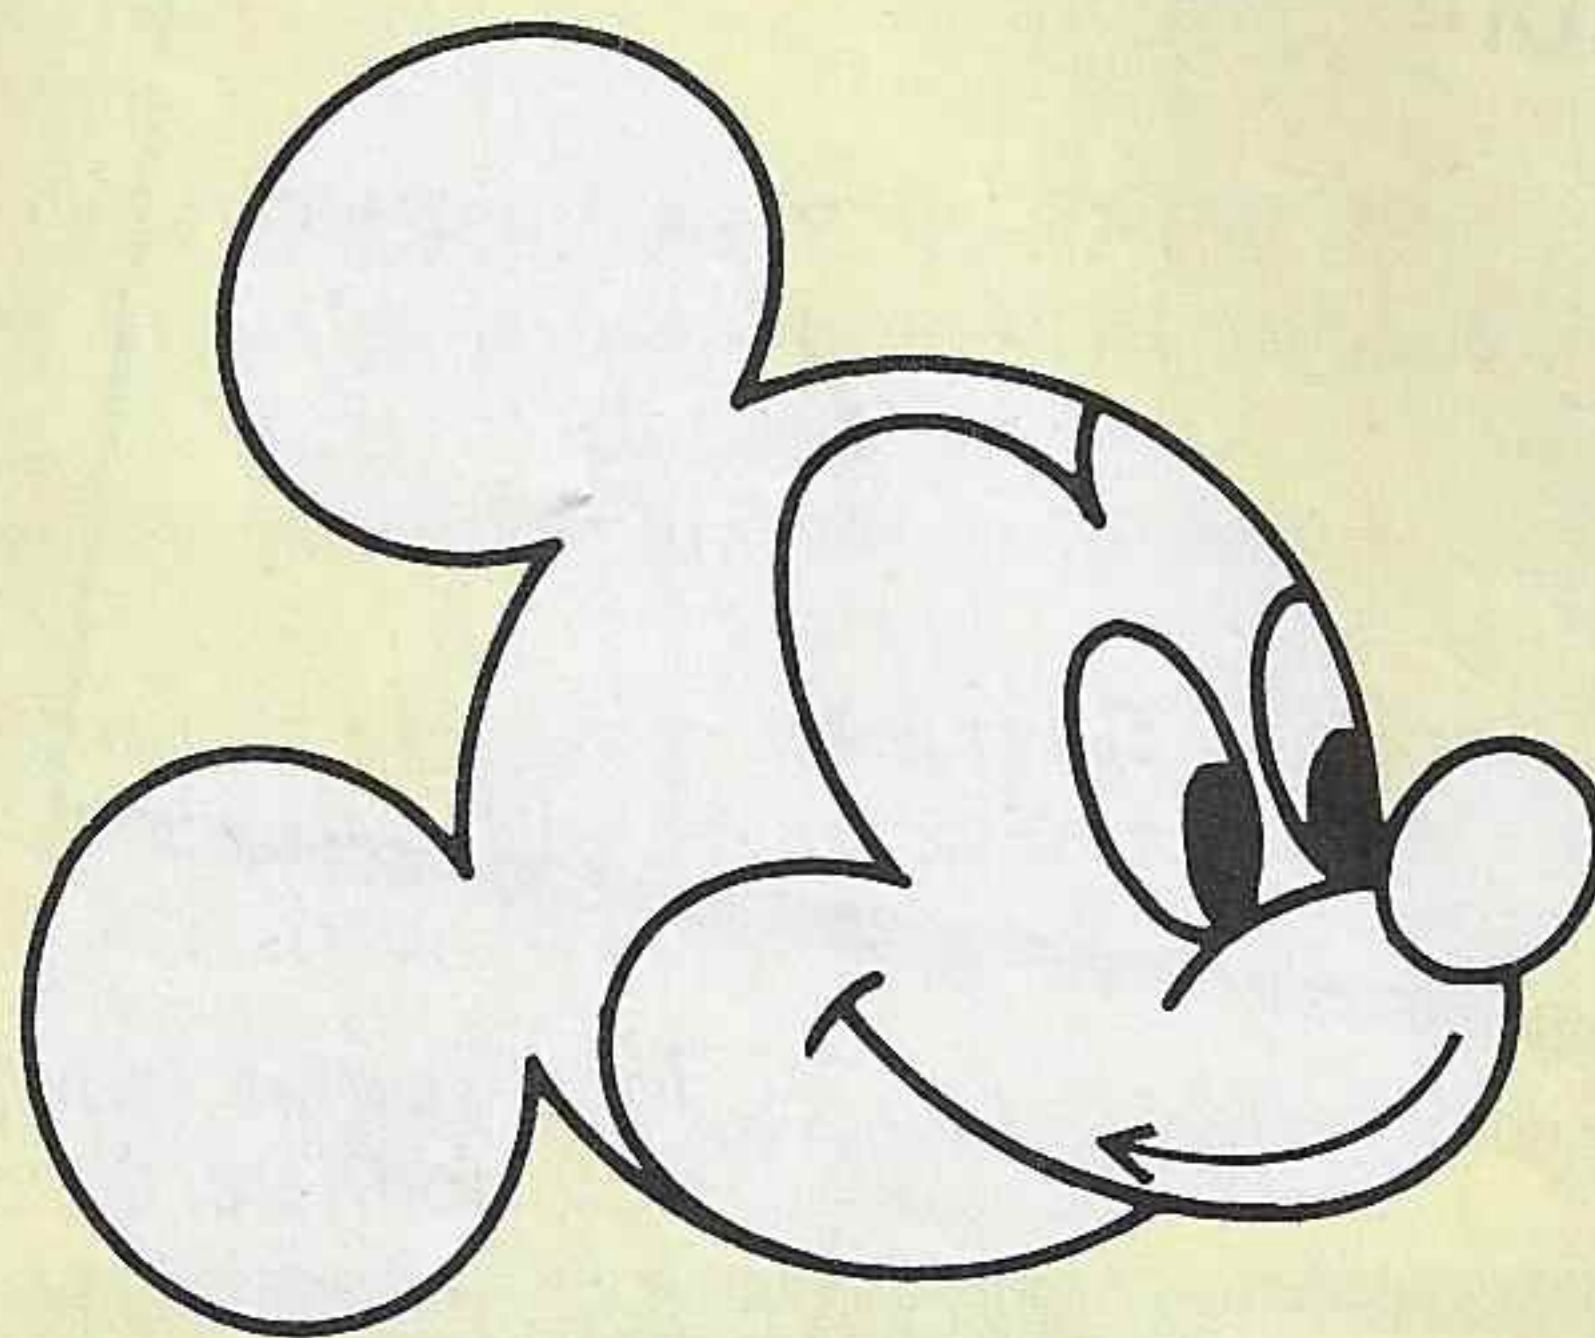

2 Draw two fat ovals for ears.

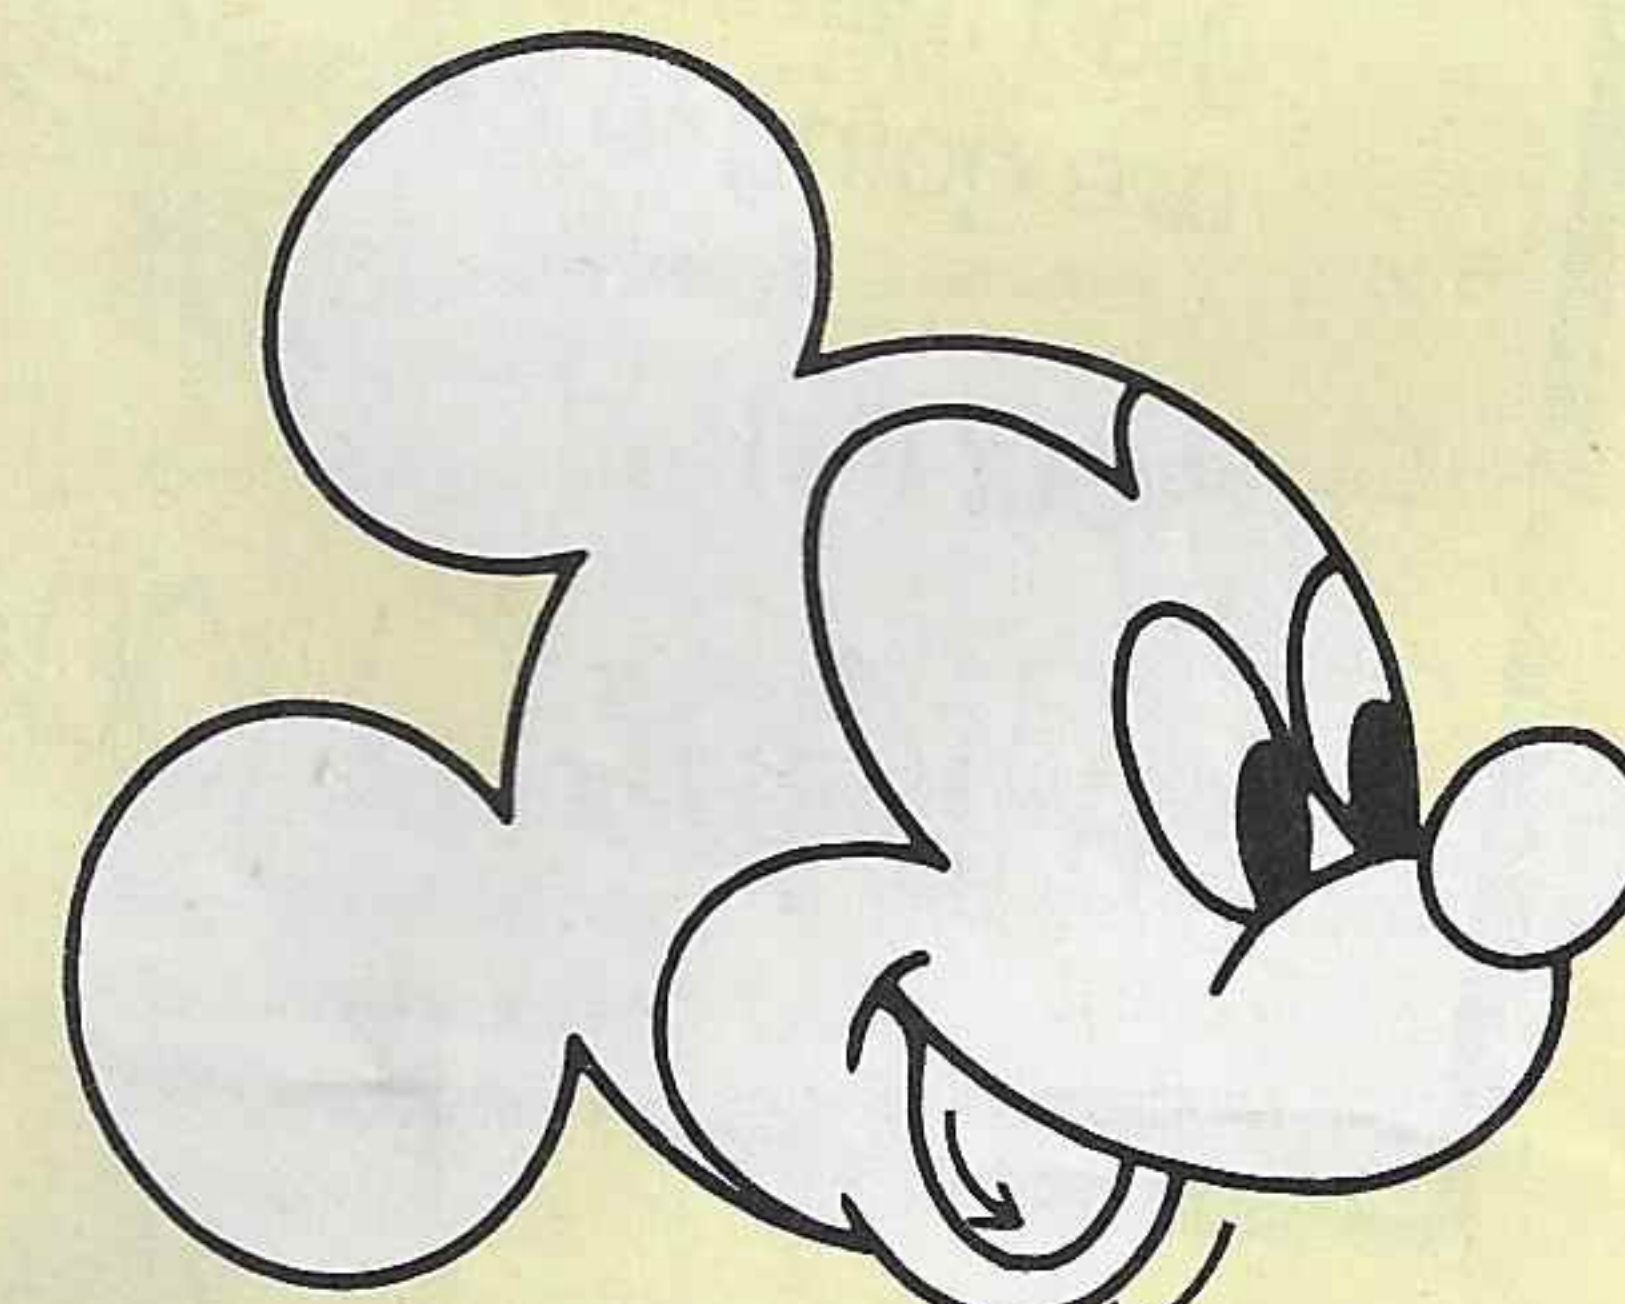

3 Draw another oval for Mickey's snout and another, smaller, egg-shaped circle for the nose.

4 Draw three large ovals to make Mickey's face. Add two ovals for eyes and two smaller ovals for pupils.

5 For Mickey's mouth, draw a line from underneath the snout and into the head circle. Erase unnecessary lines.

6 Draw a half oval from the corner of Mickey's mouth to a point about half way on his snout. Draw part of an oval directly under the first one.

Watch "Milestones in Animation" and "The Reluctant Dragon" September 3, 6, 9, 12, 14, 17, 19, 23, 25, 27 to learn more about animation art and what it's like behind the scenes at the Disney Studio.

MOUSERCISE

SUPER SCHOOL BAG SNACKS!

Watch MOUSERCISE and Start Your School Day Right!

School lunches don't have to be boring or junky! Put away the potato chips and candy bars and reach for one of these easy-to-fix, tasty, healthy snacks.

1) Slice fresh zucchini lengthwise into strips, sprinkle lightly with garlic salt and parmesan cheese.

2) Stuff celery lengths with peanut butter, cream cheese, or cheese spread.

3) Core an apple and slice crosswise into rings. Spread peanut butter on one ring, top with a second ring.

4) Be adventurous! Be brave! Try peanut butter with any of the following for a nice change: raisins, bananas, lettuce, honey, sliced apples, celery or fresh blueberries.

WRITE YOUR OWN COMIC STRIP!

Watch DONALD DUCK PRESENTS weekday afternoons and weekend mornings for hijinks that will "quack" you up! Then grab a ball point pen and write your own words for Donald and the gang in the bubbles here.

Welcome To Pooh Corner

POOH CORNER RACE

Ask Mom or Dad to cut a small piece of paper for each player. Mark each piece with a different color crayon. Put pieces at START. Flip a penny to find out how many spaces to move.

Move 1 space for heads, 2 spaces for tails. Do what the spaces tell you. First person to reach Pooh's Thoughtful Spot wins.

Just for Kids

MAKE YOUR OWN GUMBY PUZZLE!

Here's how to make your own Gumby puzzle. After completing the activity on the next page, cut this page and glue it to a piece of light-weight cardboard. Then cut along the heavy lines. Your puzzle is ready to use! (Parents—you can "laminare" the puzzle for durability by "painting" the surface with thin layers of white household glue and letting it dry before cutting pieces.)

Don't miss THE GUMBY SHOW Monday, Saturday and Sunday on The Disney Channel.

The Absent-minded Professor

FLUBBER RECIPE WORD SEARCH

The Absent-Minded Professor has forgotten his recipe for Flubber. It has all sorts of funny ingredients. You can help him remember what they are by finding and circling the 24 words hidden in the maze. Then unscramble the first letters of each word to find out what the most important ingredient is! (Words read across, down and diagonally. Some words share the same letters.)

Exploring The Archives

Dave Smith, archivist for Walt Disney Productions, answers questions and provides information about the studio's history and its productions.

We know that Clarence Nash did the voice of Donald Duck in the cartoons, but who voiced that hilarious chicken, Clara Cluck?—L.H., Seattle, Wash.

The voice of the Disney barnyard nightingale was singer and film character actress Florence Gill. Watch "The Reluctant Dragon" (see page 11), which contains classic and rare footage of Nash and Gill actually recording the voices of their cartoon characters. Some other faces to watch for in the movie: actor Frank Faylen (remember him from the old "Dobie Gillis" show?) in the sound effects lab; Alan Ladd, in one of his first film roles, telling the story of "Baby Weems"; and even Walt Disney, himself.

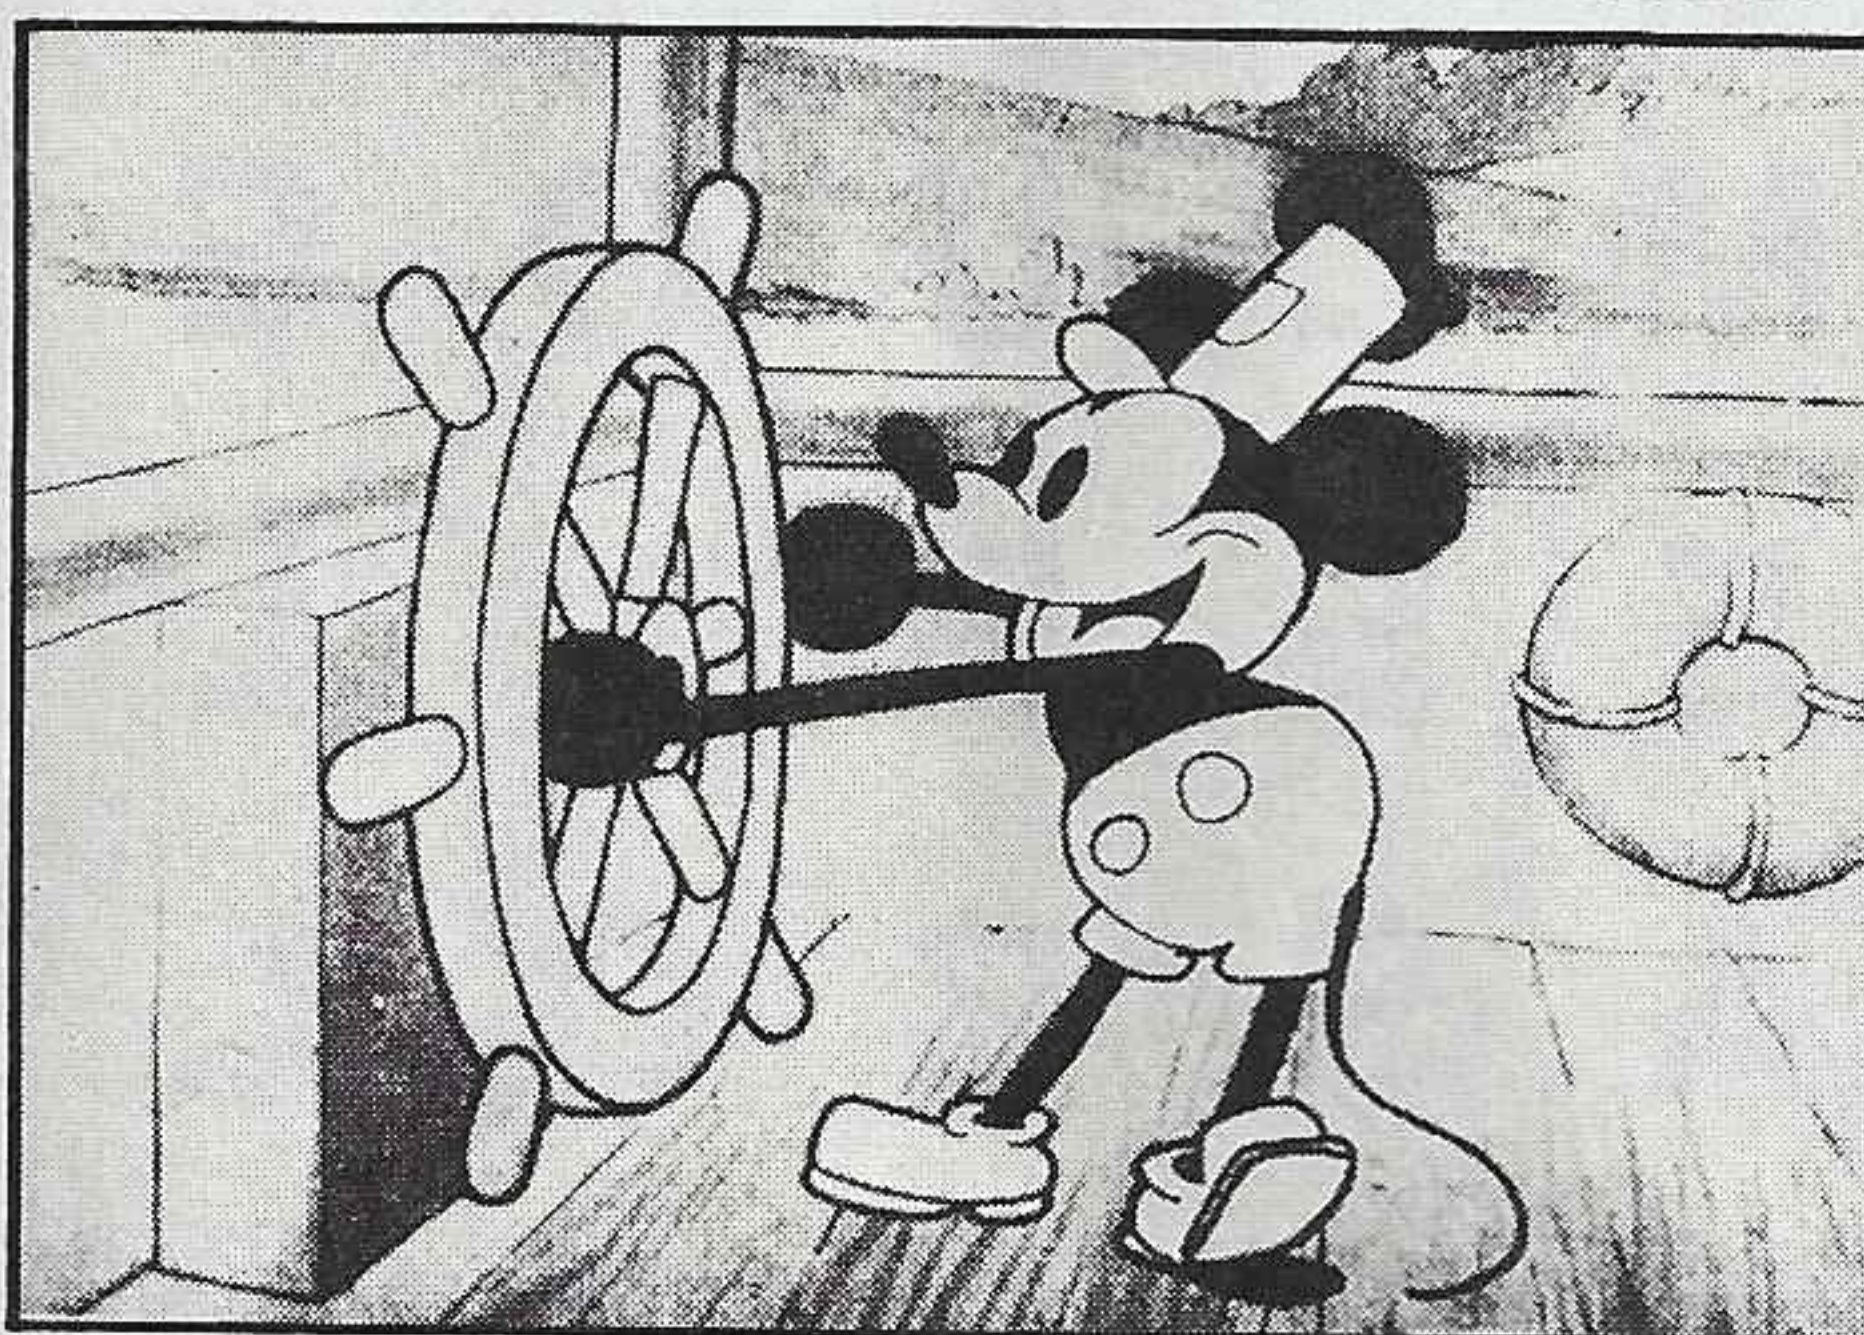

Clara Cluck charms Clarabelle Cow

Even though many years have passed since "The Reluctant Dragon" was made, it stands as a nostalgic and fascinating look at the Disney Studio. Many of the animation processes and techniques shown in the film are still in use today.

Fred MacMurray is a favorite of mine. How many Disney films did he star in?—S. S., St. Louis, Mo.

Over a period of 14 years, MacMurray appeared in seven Disney films. They were "The Shaggy Dog," "The Absent-Minded Professor" (see page 10), "Bon Voyage," "Son of Flubber," "Follow Me, Boys!," "The Happiest Millionaire" and "Charley and the Angel."

DISNEY TRIVIA FOR SEPTEMBER

Pilot Mickey in "Steamboat Willie"

...While "Steamboat Willie" (see page 11) was the first Mickey Mouse cartoon released, there were two that were made earlier, but as silent films. They were released later, after sound was added. Can you name them?*

...Patrick McGoochan made his Disney debut in "The Three Lives of Thomasina" (see page 18), and later soared to TV stardom in "The Secret Agent" and "The Prisoner" series, which have attained cult status. Other stars who got an American film start in Disney movies include Sean Connery ("Darby O'Gill and the Little People" 1959), Julie Andrews ("Mary Poppins" 1964) and Peter O'Toole ("Kidnapped" 1960).

Table Talk...

Television can provide a powerful, positive catalyst for family communication. Especially when a critically acclaimed film based on a popular young-adult novel is part of your viewing experience. "Tex," which deals with more mature issues involved in growing up, gives your family a unique opportunity to share memories, feelings, hopes and ideas. Watch "Tex" together, then open the floor for discussion and have fun finding out more about each other. (Parents answer the questions designated for "Adults," youngsters answer those designated "Kids.")

Positive Talk About Growing Up

- 1) Kids: What do you most look forward to about becoming an adult?
Adults: What did you most look forward to when you were young?
- 2) Kids: How do you help take care of the other members of your family? Of yourself? Would you like to have more responsibilities at home? Less?
Adults: What were you responsible for when you were the same age as your children are now? How did you feel about your responsibilities then? Now?
- 3) Kids: If you were Tex's best friend, how would you try to help him?
Adults: If Tex was your boy, what advice would you give him?
- 4) Kids: Do you ever feel pressured by peers or environment to act in a way that's not "the real you?"
Adults: How about you?

School Days! Safe Days!

Send Youngsters to School with Mickey's Safety Tips in Mind.

Take a few moments with your schoolchildren to review basic safety rules, then have them answer and discuss the following. A child's best protection is to have enough information and awareness to act wisely in all situations! (Answers below. Some questions have more than one correct answer.)

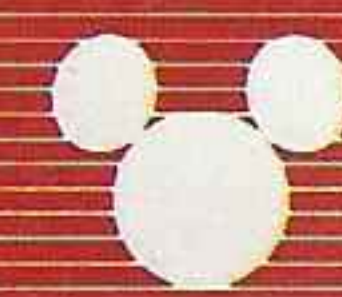

- 1) When riding a school bus, you should,
 - a) Be on time at the bus stop so you don't have to run to get on.
 - b) Enter the bus one at a time, and sit quietly so you don't distract the driver.
 - c) Hurry to get a seat by the window.
 - d) Sing and play and have a good time.
- 2) When getting off a school bus, you should,
 - a) Count on cars stopping to let you cross the street.
 - b) Walk in front of the bus so the driver can see you before moving on.
 - c) Check both sides of the street to make sure no cars are coming.
- 3) You should not be alone in,
 - a) Playgrounds, parks, restrooms or empty lots.
 - b) Your yard.
 - c) Your room.

- 4) When walking to school you should always take,
 - a) A short cut.
 - b) A street with fewer cars and plenty of crosswalks and signals so you can cross safely.
 - c) A busy street.
- 5) On dark and cloudy days you should wear,
 - a) Your new shoes so you can jump in puddles.
 - b) Extra socks.
 - c) Light-colored clothing so drivers can see you easily.
- 6) If a stranger bothers you, you should,
 - a) Run away as fast as you can.
 - b) Go to someone you know like a neighbor, a teacher or a policeman.
 - c) Yell for help.
 - d) All of the above.
- 7) If walking on a road where there are no sidewalks you should always walk facing oncoming cars to,
 - a) Stay out of bushes.
 - b) See cars that are coming too fast or too close and move out of the way.
 - c) See the different kinds and colors of cars going past.

- 8) When walking to school you should always use,
 - a) Roller skates.
 - b) Crosswalks and sidewalks, because they're safe for walking.
 - c) A backpack for your books.
- 9) It is better to play with friends who are,
 - a) Your own age and size so that you can keep up with them.
 - b) Known by your parents so they can be sure you're playing with trustworthy kids.
 - c) Pretty and popular.
- 10) You must be careful with strangers because,
 - a) You do not know if they are good or bad, and it's better not to try and decide for yourself.
 - b) Some strangers can hurt you.
- 11) It is not a good idea to play around:
 - a) Vacant lots.
 - b) Old, empty houses or buildings under construction.
 - c) Places with tools, machines, paints or electrical wires.
- 12) It is better to follow safety rules from your parents and teachers because,
 - a) If you do, no one will scold you.
 - b) It's more fun to play safe and be safe.

You and Me, Kid

More Fun For Your Family—Right Here!

You'll see "Cuckoomania!" on YOU AND ME, KID September 3 & 22. We've reprinted the story here so you and your child can read it together any-time, and expand the benefits of YOU AND ME, KID into other hours of the day. (Reading's a great excuse for cuddling.) For even more fun as you read the story try this! Each time a clock is mentioned, point to the correct picture below and ask your child to make the sound indicated in the text.

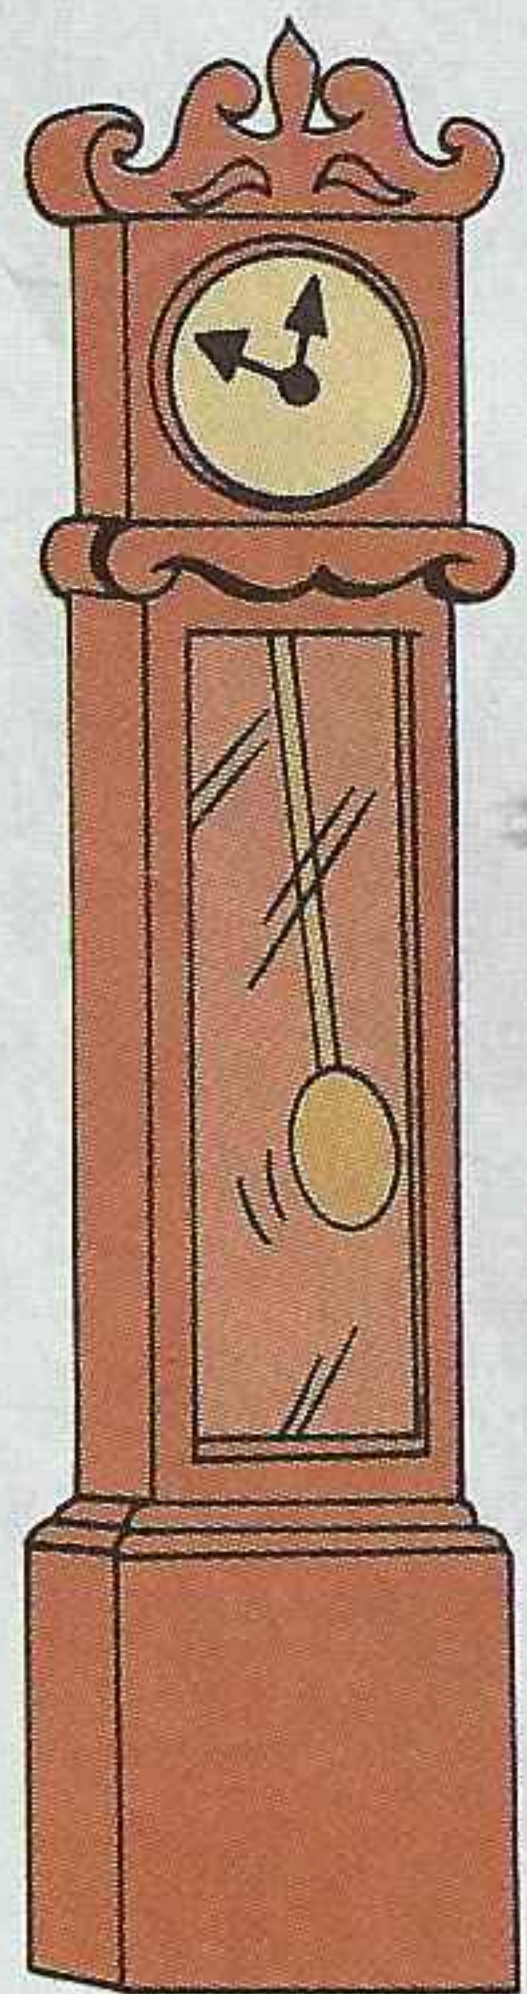

Guests share a private smile

CUCKOOMANIA!

Mr. Tock was a clockmaker who made all kinds of clocks. Big grandfather clocks, (Bong, bong) tiny wristwatches, (Tick, tick, tick) and alarm clocks. (Brrrrrrrrring) But his favorite was a beautiful cuckoo clock. (Cuckoo, cuckoo)

One day a little girl named Toni came to Mr. Tock's shop to buy a clock.

"How about a grandfather clock?" (Bong, bong) said Mr. Tock.
 "Too big," said Toni.
 "Here's a nice wristwatch," (Tick, tick) said Mr. Tock.
 "Too small," said Toni.
 "This alarm clock (Brrrrrrring) should be just right," said Mr. Tock.
 "Too plain," said Toni. She saw the cuckoo clock. (Cuckoo, cuckoo) "I'll take that one," said Toni.

"Oh dear," said Mr. Tock. He was sorry to sell his favorite cuckoo clock. (Cuckoo, cuckoo) But he did.

Toni took her cuckoo clock (Cuckoo, cuckoo) home. Then she decided to take a nap.

Toni closed her eyes and went to sleep. The cuckoo clock struck four. (Cuckoo, cuckoo, cuckoo, cuckoo)

Toni woke up! "That is a very loud clock," she said. She put her head under the covers and went back to sleep.

The cuckoo clock struck five! (Cuckoo, cuckoo, cuckoo, cuckoo, cuckoo)

Toni woke up again! "I will never get any sleep with this clock in the house," she said.

She took the clock back to Mr. Tock. "Take this noisy clock back," she said,

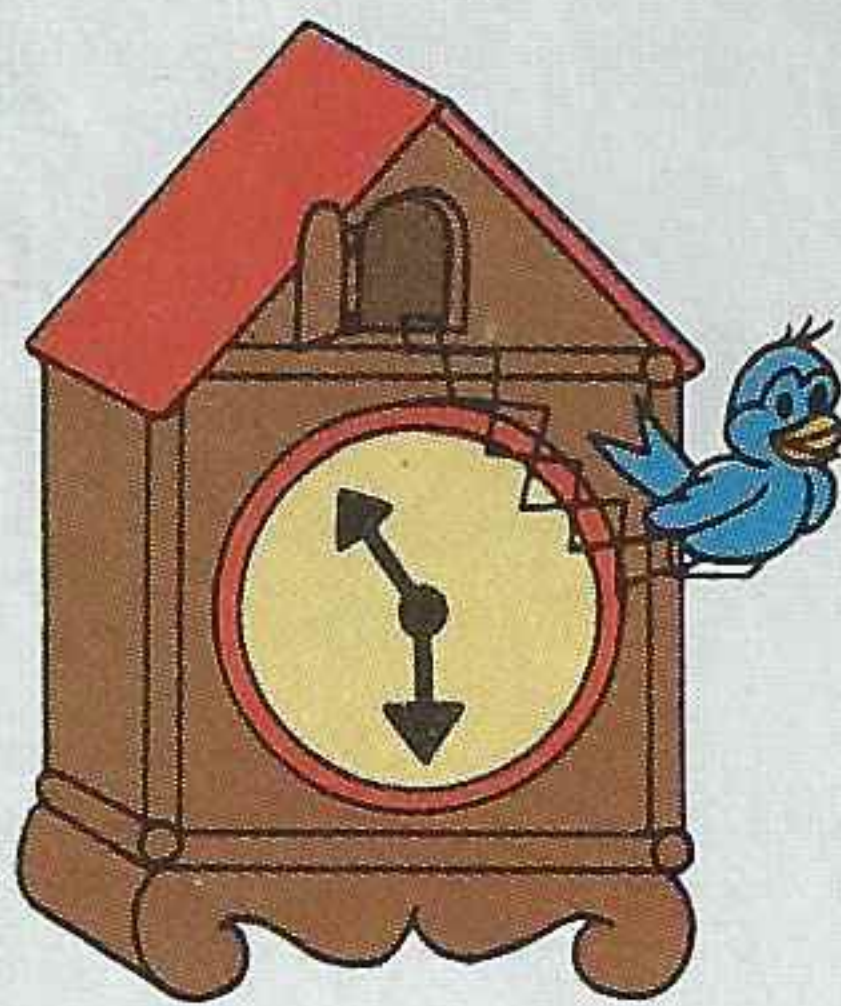

Watch "Cuckoomania," then read it here

"and give me something quiet!"

"Certainly," said Mr. Tock. He gave Toni a wristwatch. (Tick, tick)

Mr. Tock was happy to get his cuckoo clock back. (Cuckoo, cuckoo) And Toni was happy to get a good night's sleep.

YOU'RE TALKING... WE'RE LISTENING...

And here are the results of the first FEEDBACK.

On pages 2 and 3 of this month's Magazine, we explained that we were making program changes because you, our subscribers, told us you wanted more movies and cartoons. You talked, we listened, and the results are in! Well, let's be specific:

What you wanted.

Eighty-four percent of you wanted more movies, and 58% said you wanted more cartoons.

What you liked best.

Here were your favorite programs in June. "Dumbo" and "Swiss Family Robinson" tied for top honors! You also told us that you found The Disney Channel Magazine very enjoyable. Your favorite sections were "Monthly Magic," the special inserts and the "Just for Kids" section.

Who watches The Disney Channel the most?

Sixty-two percent reported it was the "family as a whole." And finally, you may be interested to know that 71% of the forms were returned by the ladies in the family. Come on fellows, we want to hear from you too! Remember—keep talking—we're listening!
